THROUGHS AT BEACH COMB SEA FOR BODY

Search of Ocean at Venice For Corpse of Evangelist To Continue Indefinitely

DETECTIVES ARE HIRED

Mother of Missing Woman Preacher Conducts Angel Temple Services

(By United Press)
LOS ANGELES, May 20.—Hundreds of devoted disciples of Aimee Semple McPherson, missing evangelist, joined with police and life guards today in a renewed search for her body along the ocean shores at Venice, where she was believed to have drowned Tuesday.

Not a trace of Mrs. McPherson has been found, and the search was ordered continued indefinitely.

Scenes of near-rioting occurred in front of the Ocean View hotel, where thousands of morbidly curious men, women and children, many of them followers of Mrs. McPherson, gathered to aid or watch in the search.

Some Doubt Drowning
Some expressed a doubt that the evangelist had been drowned, advancing the theory she may have left the beach to carry out plans unknown to her secretary and family. This invariably precipitated an argument with followers of Mrs. McPherson.

Mrs. Minnie Kennedy, mother of the missing evangelist, has called a meeting of the board of trustees of Angelus temple for tonight, when plans will be made to carry on Aimee's religious work.

A daughter, Roberta, 15, has been picked to succeed Mrs. McPherson as the spiritual leader of the many thousands who support the million-dollar temple and radio station.

Mrs. Kennedy has offered a $500 reward for the recovery of Mrs. McPherson's body, and has engaged Burns detectives to aid in the search, and investigate the apparent drowning.

Hint at Premonition
Several followers of the evangelist recalled today that she may have had a premonition of death when she broadcast her regular sermon Sunday night.

"If anything should happen to me, how many of you would carry on?" she broadcast, while the congregation at Angelus temple, kneeling, responded in chorus:

"I will, sister! Praise God."

Mrs. Kennedy is conducting the daily services at Angelus temple.

After investigating a maze of rumors concerning the mysterious disappearance of Mrs. McPherson, detectives announced today they were unable to discover any evidence that the evangelist had not met death by drowning in the surf at Venice.

Probe Murder Theory
That Mrs. McPherson may have been murdered, or that she had probably disappeared and would return safe and alive, were among the many reports investigated by the detectives when a continued search for the evangelist's body proved unavailing.

No evidence to support any of these theories has been uncovered, according to J. W. Buchanan, manager of the Los Angeles branch of the Burns Detective agency, retained to investigate the strange tragedy.

A report that Mrs. McPherson's life had been threatened by underworld leaders, incensed at her crusade against vice, particularly her attack on Sunday dancing at Venice, proved groundless, Buchanan said.

Rise From Waters?
It was also rumored that Mrs. McPherson would arise from the waves next Sunday at the exact spot where she was supposed to have disappeared Tuesday afternoon while swimming in the surf. Many of the evangelist's disciples are said to have placed considerable credence in this improbable

BRITISH MINERS SPURN SCHEME TO END STRIKE

(By United Press)
LONDON, May 20.—Delegates of the striking British coal miners today rejected the government's proposals for settlement of the strike.

The miners' delegates met at King's Way hall, 15 attending the meeting. They heard the reports on the government's proposals and then rejected them.

The conference passed resolutions saying the miners were unable to accept any prospective reduction of wages and would not agree to the appointment of a neutral chairman for the wage board, provided in the government's proposals, who would be able to enforce minimum wages in each district.

The government's plan, which was formulated and submitted by Premier Baldwin, followed generally the findings of the Royal Coal Commission and called for wage reductions which miners said would amount to an average of 10 per cent. It set up machinery for enforcement of the settlement.

CONVICT HUNTED IN PRISON SEWER

SAN QUENTIN, May 20.—The body of Arthur Owen Davis, escaped convict murderer, may be found today wedged inside an 18-inch concrete sewer, extending from within the walls of San Quentin prison to San Francisco bay.

A lone guard, equipped with a gas mask, was lowered through a manhole within the prison walls shortly after noon to make a search of the narrow outlet. A rope, unwinding from a windlass at the edge of the manhole, was tied about his waist to make certain that he will come out again.

The startling possibility that Davis may have made a horrible death in his attempt to escape was announced at noon by Warden Frank I. Smith.

DAUGHERTY DENIES GUILT IN U.S. COURT

Former Attorney General Arraigned in New York On Conspiracy Charge

PROVIDES $5000 BAIL

Harding Cabinet Member Released on Bond; Judge Is Disqualified in Case

(By United Press)
NEW YORK, May 20.—Harry M. Daugherty, attorney general in the cabinet of President Harding and later under President Coolidge, pleaded not guilty to charges of conspiracy to deprive the government of its rights, when he was arraigned before Federal Judge Harry Goddard here today.

Daugherty was indicted two weeks ago with the late John T. King and Thomas W. Miller, former alien property custodian.

Judge Goddard set Daugherty's bail at $5000.

Judge Is Disqualified
Judge Goddard notified the attorneys that, because he and Daugherty both had received political appointments from the late President Harding, he would not entertain any motions in the case and that it must pass to another court.

Accordingly no date for trial was set. It will be assigned later to another department of the district court.

Robert S. Johnston, attorney for Thomas W. Miller, moved dismissal of a similar indictment returned seven months ago against Miller, but the motion was opposed by U. S. Attorney E. R. Buckner and was denied by Judge Goddard, who specified it could be renewed later.

Miller Does Not Appear
Miller, who recently was injured in a fall at his farm, was unable to appear and his arraignment will be held later.

Daugherty, in answer, to his name, stepped inside the rail and the attorney ranged themselves on each side. Daugherty was represented by Max D. Steuer, of New York.

Bond was furnished immediately and Daugherty left the court with his lawyer.

Gibson Says U. S. Representatives Regard Security Largely Region Problem

SEES VICIOUS CIRCLE

States Bordering Russia Hold Reduction Not Possible Without Assurance

(By United Press)
GENEVA, May 20.—Hugh Gibson, American representative at the meetings of the League of Nations commission, attempted to arrange a disarmament conference today, warned that "if we wait until absolute security is attained before undertaking reduction of armaments, we will follow a vicious circle."

He was discussing the question of regional agreements on disarmament.

"We regard security largely as a regional problem and hence the limitation of armaments in the western hemisphere would have little effect on the security of European countries," Gibson said in addressing the commission. "Thus the solution must rest on regional rather than a universal basis."

States bordering Russia pleaded their special position when delegates from Rumania, Finland and Poland declared reduction of armaments impossible without concrete guarantees of security.

Viscount Cecil, of England, proposed that, as soon as the commission has assigned the various questions to technical sub-commissions for study, the commission should adjourn until autumn. He said progress will only be possible when technical sub-commissions have prepared concrete proposals serving as a basis for "drafting the disarmament project. Hence it was expected the commission would adjourn not later than Saturday.

FRANCE MOVES TO DEFENSE OF FRANCE

PARIS, May 20.—"The government has decided to utilize immediately, for the defense of the franc, all the resources at the disposal of the state," was the announcement of Minister of Finance Raoul Peret today, as he left a meeting of the French cabinet, which had debated the sensational fall of the franc.

Peret, who had just returned from a visit to England, indicated that stabilization of the franc would involve use of the hundred million dollar Morgan loan, negotiated in New York, and also possibly some gold reserves from the Bank of France.

Prevention of a debacle of the franc, which has touched $35.15 to the dollar, occupies all minds.

(By United Press)
FRESNO, May 20.—Federal Prohibition Agent Thomas J. Nicely, of Fresno, was reprimanded in federal court here by Federal Judge Paul J. McCormick for "wanton property destruction."

Nicely admitted that he had broken open a wooden chest in search of liquor without making any attempt to obtain keys and unlock the chest.

"There is nothing that will breed contempt of law quicker than illegal action by Federal officers," the judge commented.

C. W. Clinger, whose tool chest was destroyed, pleaded guilty to possession of liquor and was fined $200. Harry Needy and his wife, Margaret Needy, also pleaded guilty to liquor possession and were fined $700.

BREAD IS NO LONGER THE STAFF OF LIFE

Partly because we are richer, and can afford other things, and partly because we are wiser, and understand the advantages of a more varied diet, bread is becoming statistically a smaller element in our total food supply. Incidentally, the notion that bread is fattening, and the present frantic fad for slenderness, may have something to do with it.

So far as this indicates a more varied diet, it is all to the good. More meat indicates prosperity; more cheese indicates intelligence; more vegetables and fruits supply vitamins and conduce to health. But, after all, a thousand generations of bread eating have not been all a mistake. Bread is now better, cheaper and more wholesome than ever. Lucullus, if he could have had a modern loaf of bread, spread with modern creamery butter, or toasted crisp with modern gas or electric appliances, would have served it as the chief delicacy of his banquets, surpassing ostrich brains and nightingales' tongues. Modern bread is really a luxury. In ordinary quantities it is not fattening. And it would be a good thing if it were, to our adolescent bantlings. The time to keep thin is after forty.

So eat bread. But eat all the rest, too.

COST OF PAINT JOB DISPUTED BEFORE COURT

Dr. C. D. Ball, former assemblyman, and C. L. Newport, Santa Ana automobile painter, were engaged today in settling their legal dispute over Newport's retention of Dr. Ball's car in connection with a disputed bill for painting and storage.

The trial of Dr. Ball's suit for return of the car or $2000, as its cash equivalent, was under way before Superior Judge Z. B. West. Attorneys Stanley Reinhaus and Fred Forgy, of Scarborough, Forgy and Reinhaus, represented the physician. Attorney A. E. Koepsel, of Orange, appeared for Newport.

Newport was grilled by the Ball attorneys under cross-examination, regarding his charge for the paint job, which was $110, and for storage, which was $10 per day. The rent of his paint shop, he said, was $125 per month and he considered $10 a day for the space occupied by Dr. Ball's car a reasonable charge. Reinhaus reminded the witness that he was testifying under oath.

Reinhaus wanted to know if $80 wouldn't have been a fair price for the paint job and the price ordinarily paid by the automobile firm that placed Dr. Ball's car in the paint shop for the painting.

Newport retorted that he was running his own business and the automobile firm could not dictate what price he should charge.

The case still was in progress this afternoon.

Gloom Hangs Over Temple A pall of gloom hung over Angelus temple, the magnificent tabernacle supported by 35,000 followers of Alcee Semple McPherson.

Mrs. Minnie "Mother" Kennedy, the evangelist's mother, was near collapse today from the strain of the tragedy. She wept bitterly at hundreds of disciples of the "Four Square Gospel" called at her luxurious home adjacent to the huge temple to console her.

While this scene was being enacted, additional hundreds of worshippers filed into the church to pray. Outside the home, curious members walked back and forth before a big bulletin board, where progress of the search for their leader's body was posted.

A heavy cordon of guards, made up of Mrs. McPherson's personal bodyguard, formed a barricade outside the home.

Hundreds of telegrams of condolence poured into the home while Mrs. Kennedy prepared to assemble her daughter's people to "carry on" the work of their founder.

The board of managers, laymen who worked with Mrs. McPherson and her mother in the management of the church affairs, are scheduled to meet tonight, when a successor for the famous evangelist will be appointed, and her will revealed.

OIL FIRM MERGER DECLARED LEGAL

WASHINGTON, May 20.—Investigation of the acquisition by the Standard Oil Company of New York of the General Petroleum corporations assets showed a violation of the Sherman anti-trust law, Attorney General Sargent announced today.

"The reason we reached this conclusion is that the business of the two companies was purely complementary and not competitive."

PENALIZE VOTE SLACKERS

Editor Register:
Now that the time is drawing near for holding two elections, one each for city and county, those most interested, are trying to solve the problem, as to how best to get the careless or indifferent voter to the polls; and the writer believes the time opportune to suggest a remedy that for all time would cure this evil tendency to neglect, not this is to penalize the slacker,
and that is to be done most effectively by adopting the Australian law of this, as our state did their system of secret balloting, which has given splendid satisfaction, especially to all lovers of right and justice. We herewith give the claim of what has resulted, following the adoption of such a law in Australia.
In Australia there is a law that imposes a fine of $10 on every citizen who does not vote when he is physically able to get to the polls. The law had its first test in the recent federal election. Ninety-one per cent of the enrolled voters actually cast votes; for several years before the law was passed only fifty-five or sixty out of every hundred citizens could be induced to vote.—Youth's Companion.
Such a law, if not enacted by our legislature, should be taken up by the people, under the "Initiative Act."

FORMER FULLERTON OFFICER AND CHIEF OF POLICE FLING CHARGES IN BOOTLEG PROBE

FULLERTON, May 20.—With the rooms of the council chamber packed to the walls with Fullerton citizens, the board of trustees last night conducted an investigation of law enforcement, especially as pertaining to bootlegging. The trustees acted as the jury, with the city attorney questioning the witnesses and the city clerk swearing the witnesses in.

The first witness to appear before the board was E. Rudy, former traffic officer in Fullerton.
Rudy declared that while he was employed as a traffic officer on the Fullerton police force, he was left in charge of the jail, while Chief Winters was on a business trip to San Quentin.

Wanted Sacramental Wine?
According to his story, one day
Judge Story came to the jail and asked him if he had possession of the key to the booze cell. Rudy replied that he was given the key by Chief Winters when the chief had gone away. Judge Story said, then, that he would like to get some of the sacramental wine, which was in the booze cell, for evidence, Rudy said.

At this time, Rudy went on,
Douglas Chambers, another traffic officer, appeared at the jail. According to Rudy, Chambers and he went into the cell, where there were several cases of wine stored.
Rudy pried up the lid of one case,
he said, and they took out four bottles. Judge Story took two bottles, wrapped them in a lap robe and put them in the rear of his car, the witness asserted. Chambers took one of the bottles and Rudy took the remaining one, he said. Three or four weeks later, during the rainy season, Rudy went to the jail and found Douglas Chambers and Judge Story there with a wooden cabinet unlocked and examining the liquor, he said.

Rudy testified that he asked them what they were looking for and they said that they were going to take some of the liquor up to the chief. Rudy said that he told them that this certain liquor was not good, but if they wanted to take some up to the chief, they should get some "good stuff." They then went into the booze cell and got three quarts, Rudy asserted.

Called to Explain
Rudy testified that after he had resigned, and after the liquor had been destroyed, he was called on the telephone by Bert Annin, one of the city trustees. Rudy said that he drove to Annin's home and there was informed that nine quarts of liquor had been missed when the liquor was being destroyed. Annin told Rudy, said the latter, that he understood that the remarks were made that the former chief of police, O. W. Wilson and his wife were implicated in the deal. Rudy told Annin, he said, that the blame was not to be placed on Wilson, as Wilson never had tasted liquor, at least to his knowledge.

Attorney Allen, acting in the place of F. H. Lyons, asked Rudy what he thought of the bootlegging condition in Fullerton. Rudy replied that he believed Fullerton was as clean as any town of its size.

Trustee Elder asked Rudy if he ever had seen any member of the police force under the influence of liquor. He replied that he had seen Officers Clever and Chambers under the influence of liquor. At least, he testified they had been drinking.

Says Officers Drank
In reply to questions by the attorney, Rudy declared that he had seen Clever and Chambers under the influence of liquor two or three times, but that he never had reported it to the chief.

Mrs. Parker, of the W. C. T. U.
then took the witness stand. She declared that a witness, Judge French, could not be present at the hearing.

George Annin, former patrolman, declared that the chief had given orders to him not to detain cars in which liquor, under a pint in quantity, was found, but to destroy any small amount and allow the offender to go free. Annin also declared that he knew that Officer Clever had been drinking at one time, as he had smelled his breath.
Annin also told of another case,
at the request of Trustee Elder.
While a patrolman, Annin declared he arrested a man one night at the will open county registers and will supply hot coffee. Judges Charles S. Crall and Walter Gates will be speakers.

Attention of Kiwanians contemplating the divisional meeting of the Kiwanis club tonight was directed to the fact that the meeting is to be held at 6:30 o'clock at the McFarland cafe, Fullerton, and not at Elk's club, Anaheim.

fornia Packing corporation, and Mrs. Wilson, 610 1-2 West Fourth street, left yesterday afternoon for the northern part of the state on a two-week vacation trip.

A twilight May festival will be held at the Artesia street school at the corner of Artesia and Hickox streets, Friday evening, at 6:15.
There will be a program of drills,
songs and dances and the winding and iced drinks will be for sale at the booths. Admission is free and everyone is invited.

Members of the Santa Ana Realty
Board will be guests of D. Eymann Huff at a steak bake to be held on Wednesday of next week at Hewes Park at 6 p. m. J. R. Gabbert, real estate commissioner, will be the principal speaker at this meeting.

For the purpose of organizing a local chapter of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War, all men of Orange county who were disabled during the war have been asked to meet at the American Legion home on Birch street on the evening of May 24. Approximately 20 veterans already have signified their intention of joining.

All members of the Santa Ana Post, American Legion are expected to attend church services at the Church of the Messiah, Seventh and Bush streets, Sunday morning, Sunday, "Go to Church Day" for the veterans. Special music and a special sermon will be preached for the benefit of the ex-service men.

POLY BIRD IS MUCH ABUSED BY BAD BOYS

Expulsion may be meted out to the students who painted the Poly owl at the Santa Ana polytechnic high school again last night. Principal D. K. Hammond said today.

The act that decided Hammond to take drastic steps was the removal of the school clock, located over the entrance to the school auditorium. Because that was destruction of school property, the administration has taken the case in hand.

Suspicion already has been placed on several students, Hammond said today.
Other act of the culprits included the filling of class room door keyholes with putty and the plot-ting out of a huge "27" on the lawn in front of the school with lime.

Investigation is to be launched immediately. Hammond did not lay much credence on the possibility that the juniors, whose numeral is 27, alone were involved.
"Those who are causing the trouble are only trying to be considered smart," Hammond commented.
He declared that they seemed to glory in being able to outwit the night watchman, John Pugh, who guards the school grounds.
This morning, the missing clock was found suspended on the rope of the east flagpole at the school.
The Poly owl first was painted last Thursday. Since that time, the students had cleaned off the paint.

Last night, access to the roof of the high school building was gained through the ventilator back of the auditorium. An entertainment was being given and this means furnished the culprits an opportunity to enter the building.

Court Notes

Left $2900 Estate
An estate, consisting of a $2900 bank account, in Los Angeles and Pasadena banks, was left by the late George Meares, of Santa Ana, according to a petition for letters of administration, on file today in superior court. Henrietta Finn is the petitioner. The estate goes to the widow, Christina Meares, of 921
South Van Ness avenue, Santa Ana.

To Quiet Title
Mr. and Mrs. Claude H. Rife, of La Habra, have a suit on file in superior court against W. G. Hammer, E. M. Walkinshaw, O. O. Hammer, Hazel I. Parsons and others, to quiet title to property they sold on contract to W. G. Hammer and E. M. Walkinshaw. The plaintiffs also ask a court decree declaring them to be record owners of the property. They allege that the defendants are in default under the contract to the extent of $915 and their complaint charges a fraudulent effort to shift title to others.
Attorney R. F. Heck, La Habra, is counsel for the Rifes.

CITY RECORDER STORY
FILES RESIGNATION.
FULLERTON, May 20.—Declaring that he wanted to give the city trustees a free hand in their investigation, City Recorder George Story, accused at an open hearing, last night, of taking liquor from the police station, today sent his resignation to the trustees.

Story declared, in his resignation, that he plans to appear before the trustees at their meeting, next Wednesday night, and fight the charges, made by a former member of the Fullerton police force.

NEW BROADWAY THEATER WILL OPEN JUNE 2

The Yost Broadway theater will open Wednesday night, June 2, it was definitely announced today by E. D. Yost.

The program for the first night now is being developed, but has not been brought to the point where announcement may be made of the individual features.

"I am endeavoring to get the best First National feature film and the best vaudeville numbers available at the time of the opening and for that reason I have not definitely determined on a program," Yost said.

Will Be "Bright Spot"
Broadway, in the vicinity of the beautiful theater, will be the "bright spot" of Santa Ana that night, for Yost has arranged for the installation of a number of klieg lights to brighten the street. A number of moving picture stars will be present in person. Invitations will be issued to approximately 300 prominent men and women of Santa Ana and Southern California to attend the first night program as special guests of the management.

Work is being rushed on "Santa Ana's most beautiful theater" and it is anticipated everything will be in readiness for the opening date of the new $200,000 playhouse.

Seats were being installed today and, when installation is completed, there will be seats for 2000 persons, the seating capacity being equivalent to some of the largest playhouses in the Southland.

The big pipe organ has been installed and today was being tuned by experts.

Decorators Still Working
Interior decorators still are at work.

The laying of carpets and hanging of draperies will start next Monday.

The initial program will start at 6:45 p.m. Two performances will be held during the evening. The doors will open at 6 o'clock and those who come early will be given the opportunity of inspecting the structure before the program is started.

Yost dispelled rumors to the effect that prices for the first night would be "elevated," when he said that popular prices would rule.

"I want to make the theater available to every one in Santa Ana and Orange county and popular prices will prevail on June 2 as well as on all other occasions, except, possibly, when road show programs are offered," Yost said.

TREATMENT FOR CONTROL OF WALNUT CODLING MOTH IS RECOMMENDED TO GROWERS

From Horticultural Commissioner's Office
For effective control of the walnut codling moth, sprays and dusts should be applied immediately.

Careful watch has been kept in the orchards by the inspectors from this office and the development of the codling moth has been watched throughout the season.

In the early fall, the larvae were found in large numbers in the rough bark of the trees and in the walnut trays. Later, these larvae changed to pupae and the moths have been emerging over a period of several weeks, in fact, they began to emerge March 29, which is about two weeks earlier than shown by records kept in previous years.

The first eggs were found in the field April 27 and the peak of egg laying has just been reached. To obtain optimum results, the trees should be sprayed or dusted immediately.

Eggs Are Numerous
Codling moth eggs are numerous and present indications would point to a heavy infestation. No difficulty has been experienced in finding numerous eggs in the groves where codling moth has been a problem.

This is a chewing insect and, in order to control it effectively, the poison should be placed on the walnuts just before the eggs hatch so that when the young larva undertakes to eat its way into the walnut, it will obtain a sufficient amount of basic arsenate of lead, in so doing, to kill it.

The grower is vitally interested, of course, in first obtaining results; next, in the cost of the work. There has been a great deal of discussion both pro and con as to the effectiveness of spraying versus dusting. In this country, where the material has been applied at the proper time, very good results have been obtained with both methods. In considering the cost, there seems to be but little or no difference in the cost per tree.

Treatment Is Recommended
For the control of aphids, nicotine sulphate should be added to the spray and nicodust to the dusting material used. Our recommendations for the combination treatment consist of, when spraying:

Five pounds basic arsenate of lead to each 100 gallons of water.
One-half pint Blackleaf-40 to each 100 gallons of water.
One pound calcium caseinate to each 100 gallons of water.
This, figured for the average spray tank, which consists of 300 gallons, would mean:
Fifteen pounds basic arsenate of lead.
One and one-half pints of nicotine sulphate.
Three pounds calcium caseinate.

300 gallons of water.
When the dust is applied, it should consist of 15 per cent basic arsenate of lead and at least 2 per cent nicodust. The average walnut tree will require from 25 to 30 gallons of spray material in order to make a thorough coverage and the dust will vary from five to six pounds per tree. The spray will cost the growers in the neighborhood of three cents per gallon, when applied by a commercial sprayer, and the dust applied will cost in the neighborhood of 14 or 15 cents per pound.

Prevent Second Generation
In addition to the regular spraying and dusting campaign, orchardists should endeavor to prevent the increase and damage caused by the second generation. A great deal can be accomplished along this line by placing burlap bands around the tree trunk, in which the larvae, when they leave the walnut, seeking a place to pupate, will congregate and the bands can be removed and the worms destroyed before they have had time to pupate and the adult moths emerge. This will prevent some of the injury caused by the second generation.
These bands should be placed on the trees about the middle of June.

Man Is Injured When Wagon and Taxicab Collide

A. E. Kohler, 1601 Willet street, Santa Ana, reported to the sheriff's office yesterday that he was slightly injured when the wagon, in which he was riding, collided with a taxicab of the Murphy Taxi company, on East First street, near Mountain View avenue.

According to a statement made by Donald Thompson, driver of the taxi cab, Kohler's wagon broke down suddenly, directly in front of him, and the rear of it struck his machine before he could swerve.

Kohler was not badly hurt, and carefully watched and the larvae found in them should be destroyed every eight or 10 days, to make sure that none of them reach the adult stage and lay their eggs on the trees and thus produce a second generation, which has been very damaging to the walnut crop of this county.

We are expecting splendid cooperation in this work. Most all of the growers interviewed have signified their intentions and their willingness to treat the opportune time and in the most effective way.

If the walnut growers of California expect to successfully compete with importations of walnuts from foreign countries, they must do it on a quality basis and unless they control this insect effectively, they will find themselves laboring under a serious handicap, so we are asking an earnest effort on the part of every walnut grower to control both the walnut codling moth and the walnut aphid.

The Gustlins Present Friendly Dinner to Honor Mrs. Burns

ITH the time for departure of Mrs. Elmer Barr Burns on her summer's European trip, drawing near, her friends are taking much pleasure in planning various little gatherings in her honor. One of the most pleasant of these was the dinner party with which Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Gustlin entertained Tuesday night at their North Main street home.

Nor was Mrs. Burns the only one honored at the affair, for guests were informed that it was also the birthday of their host and she shared honors with the traveler.

Baskets of spring flowers were used effectively in the drawing room. In the diningroom, a color scheme of pink, blue and green was employed. Cards in the prevailing colors directed guests to their places at a table charmingly centered with a basket of pale pink poppies with touches of blue flowers and sprays of baby's breath.

Covers were laid for the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Gustlin, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Barr Burns, Mr. and Mrs. Theo. A. Winkler, Mrs. J. R. Medlock, Mrs. Emma French, Mrs. Ella Campau and Professor Rissler. Party of Pasadena, who is arranging the party with which Mrs. Burns will travel.

Dinner was served in six courses and with the fees was a beautiful birthday cake, gleaming with candles and placed before the host to be cut and served. A pleasant interruption came during the serving, when Mr. Gustlin was called to the door, and there presented with a handsome cluster of flowers, another birthday greeting.

Returning to the drawing room, the guests enjoyed a musical interval when their host played a number of piano compositions in his finished and delightful manner. A bit of the entertaining evening was the enthusiastic voting which followed a suggestion that the Gustlins join the party going abroad. Since Mrs. Gustlin, Mrs. Medlock, Mrs. French, Mr. Winkler and Professor Rissler have all toured Europe, they rolled up an overwhelming majority in favor of the proposition.

S. A. Woman's Club

The beautiful flowers which Mrs. F. L. Wedgewood grows in such profusion, and the musical song of the birds of her aviary, offered a happy combination to charm the eyes and ears of Santa Ana Woman's club members when they were entertained at her Cypress avenue home Tuesday afternoon.

The usual opening routine of the club was observed with Mrs. Walter L. Moore presiding. Mrs. W. S. Chandler, president-elect, read the list of her appointees. Mrs. W. L. Moore, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Frank Ey, federation secretary and Mrs. F. L. Wedgewood, parliamentarian.

In reference to the office of parliamentarian, Mrs. F. A. Marks declared that according to the series of year books covering the past 25 years, she had served frequently as parliamentarian for the past fifteen years. This record, she felt, entitled her to refuse the office this year, and the president-elect felt that in her place, Mrs. Ey would serve acceptably.

Greetings were read from Mrs. G. J. Mosbaugh, whose cheerfulness is superior to her misfortune of having a fractured hip. Another letter read was from Miss Martha Ritchey in appreciation of having been named an associate member. Mrs. Marks gave a remarkable report of the recent state federation meeting in Riverside, each session of which she attended.

As the program feature, Z. B. West Jr., city attorney, spoke on "Law Enforcement" declaring that people must be taught to revere the constitution and the laws of the nation. The local situation in regard to law-breaking is by no means perfect, he asserted, but Santa Ana is among the best governed towns and has no more law-breakers than the average city of the size.

In discussing the juvenile crime wave, the speaker declared it was a mistake to attribute it to the world war, and expressed his opinion that it was a matter of home conditions of youthful criminals. He gave many instances in proof of his theory which proved most interesting to his hearers.

His talk was supplemented by Miss Octavia Goldworthy's conversation with Dr. Marian Van Water of the Los Angeles juvenile court, details of which were related by Miss Goldworthy.

The next meeting will be at the beautiful suburban home of Mrs. Martha Ritchey on June 1 when "Music in the Home" will be the theme. The final meetings of the year will be a mid-summer picnic at Hewes park.

Church Society

Congregational.

Tall stalks of pastel-tinted gladioli together with quantities of other spring flowers artistically arranged in baskets, adorned the John E. Gowen home on Spurgeon street yesterday, when the Congregational Missionary society members met for a pleasant tea.

In the absence of the president, Mrs. Prince L. Tople, Mrs. C. F. Crose presided over the business session. Devotionals were led by Mrs. Perry F. Schrock after which Mrs. Freeman Bloodgood reviewed the first chapter, "The Slave at Home." In the study book, "Peasant and Pioneer," she used maps and made the subject very clear to her interested hearers.

Reports of the recent missionary convention at Long Beach were given in clear concise manner by Mrs. Herman Smith and Mrs. M. Blake. Mrs. L. M. Smith told of Pilgrim Place, a home for retired missionaries at Claremont.

As a pleasant addition to the program, Mrs. Arthur May sang "I Come to See (Roma)" and "Do Believe" (Ernest Ball) with Miss Ruth Armstrong at the piano. This enjoyable interlude was followed by tea when the guests were asked to the dining-room where a yellow color scheme was maintained by the use of flowers, candles and similar charmingly sunny appointments. At the tea-table, sparkling with silver and crystal, Mrs. C. F. Crose and Mrs. Perry Schrock presided while tea, sandwiches, cookies, nuts and sweetmeats were served by Mrs. E. M. Nealley, Mrs. C. M. Rowland and Miss Lida Crookshank.

First Presbyterian.

Members of all four sections of the First Presbyterian Aid society assembled yesterday in the church for an interesting all-day session with the morning devoted to quilting and other society pursuits. Mrs. M. B. Youel led the devotionals on the topic of "Working together with Him," stressing the far-reaching qualities of the society's work. Mrs. Ida Mitchell led in prayer. At midday an appetizing menu was served by members of the southeast section.

The afternoon session, presided over by Mrs. Clyde Bach, offered the minutes of previous meetings, presentation of bills for approval and other business matters of the society. Plans for a picnic on June 16, were discussed, and Bixby Park, Long Beach, decided upon. The Crown stage has offered special rates and a committee will obtain the general opinions of the members as to going by stage or private conveyance.

The committee to investigate possibilities of building a church addition, reported the building regulations would permit only a one-story building with basement. The matter was not settled definitely although need of added space is recognized.

Mrs. E. Morrison gave an excellent report of the Federated Aid society convention in Highland Park and also issued invitations to the southwest section members to a garden party at her Birch street home in the near future.

Program features include readings by Eleanor Young Elliott, piano solos, "The Meadow" by Lichler and "The Butterfly" by Markel, played very nicely by Miss Alberta Green; a talk by Mrs. Carrie Leebrick of the associated charities of Red Cross needs for the Soldiers' and Sailors' home, which the society will take up later, and readings, "Small Potatoes" and "Interrupting a Romance," given cleverly by small Jean Phillips.

In discussing the juvenile crime wave, the speaker declared it was a mistake to attribute it to the world war, and expressed his opinion that it was a matter of home conditions of youthful criminals. He gave many instances in proof of his theory which proved most interesting to his hearers.

His talk was supplemented by Miss Octavia Goldworthy's conversation with Dr. Marian Van Water of the Los Angeles juvenile court, details of which were related by Miss Goldworthy.

The next meeting will be at the beautiful suburban home of Mrs. Martha Ritchey on June 1 when "Music in the Home" will be the theme. The final meetings of the year will be a mid-summer picnic at Hewes park.

Pretty Appointments
Mark Luncheon at Country Club

enthusiasts assembled yesterday as guests of Mrs. Wilfred Doll.

Luncheon served at 1 o'clock, preceded the afternoon of bridge, the tables each centered with gladioli with whose lovely tints, other appointments harmonized. In the interval before serving the final course, a surprise feature to two of the guests was introduced. This was a shower of dainty handkerchiefs falling to the fortunate lots of Mrs. Edward Walker and Mrs. Otto Haan both of whom will be eastern tourists during the summer. They will leave Saturday and will visit all the larger eastern cities. In Newark, New Jersey, Mrs. Walker will meet her three sisters for a family reunion, all of them gathering from different parts of the United States.

In the afternoon series of bridge, first honors went to Mrs. Frank Hammett, second to Mrs. Morris Cain and consolation to Mrs. Cora B. Cavins. Mrs. Doll's guests form a congenial little group which meets at intervals for bridge, but so many are leaving for summer vacation trips that it was decided to disband until September.

Evening at Bridge Is Planned As Farewell
To Travelers

Coreopsis with cosmos in pastel tints, formed the decorative motif of the evening which was devoted to bridge. At the close of the game, the card tables were arranged attractively and centered with posies for the serving of refreshments. Favors at each place were tiny trunks filled with candy, and suggested the eastern trip upon which the honor guests will soon leave. For Saturday is the date selected for their departure and their friends have been much interested in their plans to see New York, Boston and other eastern cities. They will return the latter part of June, coming by way of Denver and San Francisco.

Mrs. Sundstrom was assisted in entertaining by her sister, Mrs. Italy Lee. Guests were the very close friends of Miss Osborn and Miss Higgins.

Ebell Travelers

A day of varied interests was enjoyed Tuesday by members of Ebell's second travel section when they were entertained by Mrs. George Reymann and Mrs. Victor Montgomery. The guests gathered at Ketter's gold room for a delicious 1 o'clock luncheon after which they repaired to the Montgomery home on North Main street for a highly interesting program.

Miss Mildred Marchant, who so recently returned from a South American visit, was the speaker, and held the close attention of her audience as she described customs of the foreign countries visited. She displayed a number of Indian baskets and told of the tribal patterns of their designs. One of the curios displayed was an Indian teapot (yerba mate) fashioned from a gourd and with a silver tube through which the liquid was taken by each member of an Indian group in turn.

One of her interesting experiences came in crossing the equator and the ceremony of attending Neptune's court for which she was awarded a diploma. Chile and other South American countries were dwelt upon in interesting manner the intimate glimpse of life in those countries was extremely fascinating to the section members.

Election of officers terminated the afternoon. Mrs. E. C. Nelson was named leader; Mrs. E. B. Burns, assistant leader; Mrs. John L. Wheeler, treasurer; Mrs. C. F. Crose, secretary and Mrs. Minnie Collins, reporter. One non-member was entertained, Mrs. McNam, a guest of Mrs. Reymann.

Fifteen hundred delegates attended a recent conference in Delhi for the organization of a Prohibition League of India.

Book Review Club

Closing a most successful year, the Book Review section of Ebell held its last meeting for the season Tuesday afternoon at the charming country home of Mrs. C. V. Newman on the San Joaquin Fruit ranch. Mrs. C. P. Boyer and Mrs. W. I. Ferrey, both of Tustin, being co-hostesses with Mrs. Newman.

The cheery living rooms were bright with spring blossoms in rich hues and there were twenty-eight members and five guests present to enjoy an excellent review by Miss Jennie Lasby of "Hounds of Spring" by Sylvia Thompson.

Miss Thompson is a young writer of 24, "Hounds of Spring" (the title taken from a poem by Shelley) being her third book. She is about to be married, having announced her engagement and is heralded as one of the most beautiful girls in England.

The book is a fine character study, stated the reviewer, although its author does not know how to tell a story. The plot covers three episodes, the period before the World War, during the war time and after the struggle and reconstruction period. The story is woven about the lives of the five members of the Renner family and Mr. and Mrs. George Barrett Saunderson. The author loves all of her characters with the exception of Miss Grimmer, upon whom she vents all of her bitterness, the others being very lovable and charming, according to Miss Lasby, who covered the book quickly and comprehensively.

The present staff of section officers was unanimously re-elected. Mrs. E. M. Nealley will continue as leader; Miss Jennie Lasby, assistant leader; Mrs. L. C. Fairbanks, secretary-treasurer and Mrs. Olive Lopez press representative.

It was decided that the section will serve the high school alumni banquet on June 12 and the luncheon for the district Farm Bureau meeting to be held here June 7. The section will give $500 to Ebell, the money going toward a payment on the clubhouse debt.

During a pleasant social period, the hostesses served delicious refreshments to their guests.

Mrs. Clinton is a pioneer of this section having lived here nearly half a century. She was showered with lovely bouquets which transformed her home into a bower of bloom. Many appreciated gifts also added to her pleasure.

The time was spent with conversation and music and refreshments of sandwiches, coffee, ice cream and cake were served. Mrs. Clinton blew out the candles on the beautifully iced birthday cake, while her friends and relatives wished her many more years of useful life. Mrs. Clinton's daughter, Mrs. W. A. West, her granddaughter, Mrs. W. H. Mize, Mrs. Henry Wallace, Mrs. R. C. Wallace and Mrs. Castler served the refreshments.

JUNIOR DIVISION TRADE JOURNEY HUGE SUCCESS

The second friendship tour of Southern California cities by the Junior Division of the Greater Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce was even more successful than the first. In the opinion of the large number of Junior Division members who returned yesterday after making the trip through numerous Southland communities.

Everywhere the Junior Division boosters were met with welcome and acclaim. Speeches were made by mayors, who presented friendship keys to cities. The spirit of friendship and good will, as exemplified by the Santa Ana young men, was hailed everywhere as meaning much for the molding together of the entire Southland in a closer unity and relationship.

The caravan stopped in San Bernardino for luncheon, after visiting Corona, Colton, Riverside, Redlands and several smaller towns during the forenoon. In San Bernardino, the secretary of the chamber of commerce and several business men of the city, former residents of Santa Ana, welcomed the youngsters.

In the afternoon, the longest stops were made in Pomona, Brea, Fullerton, Anaheim and Orange. The caravan stopped at the Anaheim Valencia orange show and took over the entertainment for about half an hour. Miss Helen Hull offered an especially attractive Charleston number, the Schroeder all-brass orchestra played several numbers. Eddie Viera and Doris Dyrast presented their attractive dance selection and the Lions club quartet contributed several vocal numbers, one of them in compliment to Sheriff Sam Jerigan, who led the procession over the route.

An especially attractive feature of the trip was the distribution of Santa Ana-made candy to the townspeople of the various cities by three pretty young girls, Virginia Bailey, Elinor Ralston and Helen Hull.

Vernon Barnhill and Pat Hurd, of the Orange county motorcycle squad, rode directly in front of the first car and gave valuable assistance in halting traffic at intersections.

From the statements of those who attended the tour, the caravan will be even bigger and better next year, as each year a large number of neophytes are converted to the idea and have a desire to make the trip, it was said.

GAS CELL READY FOR DOOMED MEN

CARSON CITY, Nev., May 20.—

Two freshly painted gray chairs, one a third larger than the other, were backed up against a row of iron bars in a small cell house at the Nevada state prison today. Tomorrow morning they will sit Stanko Jukich, who weighs 225 pounds, down on the larger chair, and strap him to the bars behind.

On the other, they will place John Randolph, 135 pounds in weight, binding him similarly.

Then they will slip outside, close the airtight door and watch through a thick glass window while the men are gassed to death. It will be the second time in history that men have been executed by gas.

There is only a bare chance that the execution will be delayed. The state pardon board meets today to consider finally the cases of the two slayers. The trial judge in Randolph's case and 82 Reno attorneys have petitioned clemency for the matricide. Jukich, however, who killed his sweetheart, has had no one in authority intercede for him.

BOULDER DAM CONTROVERSIES EXPLAINED BY CONSERVATION EXPERT AT KIWANIS MEETING

A remarkable record of conflicting interests and complicated situations, which, for the time being, might seriously interfere with the development of the Colorado river-Boulder dam project, was revealed yesterday by C. S. Evans, former mayor of Riverside, in an address delivered before the Santa Ana Kiwanis club, at the luncheon meeting at St. Ann's Inn.

Evans is one of the best known water conservation boosters in the Southland. He has made a systematic study of the Colorado river project and has made several trips to Washington in connection with legislation relating to the same.

His talk, yesterday, illustrated by maps and charts, was a plea for the closest possible co-operation of all participating interests, based upon a full and complete understanding of mutual interest and aims. He asked that those identified with the project forget their petty jealousies and selfish considerations and get behind the project as a whole, thus hastening the realization of improvements designed for the benefit of all concerned.

Disagree Over Distribution

Touching upon some of the controversies, which are blocking necessary legislation, he mentioned the unyielding attitude of Arizona, the disagreement over power distribution and the proposed construction of the All-American canal in Imperial valley.

As regards Arizona, the speaker said that Governor Hunt, of that state, taking the stand that Boulder dam development is an Arizona project, seeks to capitalize the same for taxation purposes under a proposed arrangement whereby the private power companies would pay a royalty to the state of Arizona for all power generated at the dam.

For this reason, Evans went on to say, Governor Hunt wants the project to be located within the boundaries of the state of Arizona. Coupled with this statement, the speaker added that the present government of Arizona is quite willing that the private power companies should undertake the construction of the dam with the understanding that they would pay a fixed royalty to the state of Arizona.

Disagreement as to whether hydro-electric power generated at the dam, should be distributed by municipalities or other political subdivisions, or by private power companies already operating and furnishing power for various purposes, is another controversy blocking progress in the negotiations, the speaker asserted.

Would Oppose Attempts

He intimated that opponents to public ownership would oppose any attempt to convert the Boulder dam project into such an enterprise. In this attitude, the Riverside man opined, they would be supported by the power companies. He thought, however, that some arrangement could be worked out, whereby a portion of the power generated would go to municipalities desiring to operate their own power, and a portion to the private power companies.

Speaking on this subject, Evans took pains to point out that he does not favor public ownership in principle. He added, however, that public control of utilities depends, in a large measure, on peculiar local conditions. He cited Riverside, Long Beach and other places, where public ownership of certain utilities has been a success. He ventured the opinion that when the majority of voters in a municipality desire public ownership of their utilities for good and sufficient reasons, they should have an opportunity to try it out.

Discussing the reasons for the All-American canal, which would be constructed wholly within the United States, Evans explained the present arrangement, whereby American ranchers are dependent upon the good will of the Mexican authorities for irrigation water. Already a considerable portion of the Colorado river is being used for irrigation of Mexican land.

200,000 Acres Cultivated
Just over the border line there is one holding of 850,000 acres, owned by an American and some associates, 200,000 acres of which are under cultivation. The Colorado river canal flows through this property, it was explained.

"The ownership of this huge tract of land, already drawing heavily on the limited water supply, wants to place more acres under cultivation at the expense of American enterprise."

He continued:
"I do not question the right of any American to invest his money in a foreign country and his right to a fair return on such investment. But when an American invests his

EXPRESS FIRM TO BE LOCATED IN NEW DEPOT

Officials of the American Railway Express company, in conference yesterday in Los Angeles with officials of the Pacific Electric Railway company, completed negotiations for the express company to occupy quarters in the railway company's new building, to be erected on East Fourth street. It was revealed here today by J. T. Carter, local agent of the American Railway Express company.

An official of the railway company, in long-distance conversation today with a representative of The Register, said that the board of directors of his company had not yet officially approved plans and specifications for the new building. However, he expressed belief that they would be approved, and that it was possible construction work would start at an early date.

In view of the fact that the express company's lease on its present quarters at 630 North Main street expires on September 30, it is the opinion of Carter that the railway company contemplates completion of its new structure by October 1.

Plans drawn for the new depot provide for a two-story structure, with store rooms on the ground floor and offices on the second.

The supply of potash in the waters of the Dead Sea is considered as inexhaustible.

FLORENCE Oil Range

The stove with Focused Heat

The New Grid-Top Model

This is the new Grid-Top Florence Oil Range—now on sale, in addition to the regular Florence. Notice the roomy cooking surface made with an all-over grid. You can use every inch of the space—for quick cooking directly over the burners, for simmering over the cast-iron lids and for keeping food warm near the back of the stove. You can move cooking vessels around on the even surface with no danger of spilling their contents. Another real convenience is in the wide warming shelf above the stove. The extra shelf under the stove is not only a convenience but makes this range unusually strong and rigid. The single Giant burner under the oven does all types of baking efficiently and with great economy.

Florence Burner with outer jacket cut away to show how flame is FOCUSED on the cooking vessel. Notice that there is no wick, for the Florence operates on the most advanced principle of combustion engineering, mixing the vapor from kerosene with heated air. This assures complete combustion and intense heat.

Know the new freedom from kitchen drudgery

SHORTER hours in a cooler kitchen—that is the happy lot of those who use the Florence Oil Range.

The secret is Focused Heat, for the burners of the Florence send the heat straight into the cooking instead of worse than wasting it in the kitchen. And this means not only comfort and meals on time, but it means smaller fuel bills.

In the Florence there are no wicks to trim, no priming to be done. The degree of heat is regulated simply by turning a lever.

When you see this shining beauty of a Florence Range at the store, notice the famous Florence portable oven. The "baker's arch" and patented heat distributor take the gamble out of baking. Things are done just as you like them.

ANDREWS HALL, NEW HIGH SCHOOL GYMNASIUM, WHICH WILL BE MEMORIAL TO LATE SECRETARY

The cut for the picture was loaned to the Register through the courtesy of Miss Meta C. Daniel, chairman of the publication committee of the Santa Ana City Teachers League Bulletin. In the League Bulletin, beneath the picture, is the following: "The death of F. L. Andrews, for 11 years secretary of the Santa Ana board of education, brought sorrow and loss to the schools and to the community he had served so faithfully and well. It is fitting that the new gymnasium, which his care and foresight did much to make possible, should be dedicated to his memory. In bronze and steel and concrete his name will be perpetuated. In tenderer fashion he will continue to live in the hearts of those who knew and loved him."

Tribute Paid by Teachers Bulletin to Education Board Official

In the current issue of the Santa Ana City Teachers' League Bulletin, issued yesterday, a tribute was paid to the memory of Frank L. Andrews, for 11 years secretary of the Santa Ana board of education. This comes almost on the eve of the completion of Andrews hall, the name given to the high school gymnasium, which will be open to use next week.

Two editorial tributes to Secretary Andrews appear on the front page of the bulletin, together with a pen-picture of the gymnasium entrance drawn by George Preble, high school senior.

Andrews Friend of All

One of these editorials reads as follows: "Every teacher who knew him—and who did not—felt in him a personal friend. He was never too busy to give ear to a tale of discouragement or sorrow, always ready with suggestions for help or with words of sympathy. In time of trouble he was at hand. His physical strength might grow faint; his will to help was greater than his weariness. Often taxed beyond his strength, he continued to perform acts of simple goodness."

"Not only in times of distress did he give of himself. He shared in the joy and any good fortune, was proud of any achievement of those who taught in the schools that he and they felt were in a very special way, his schools."

"To the teachers, Mr. Andrews was more than a member of the board of education. He was a personal friend."

Another Tribute Paid

The second editorial reads: "Words are inconstant. In our swift moving age meanings are elusive. The word 'politics' has lately been debased in popular consciousness. The word 'business' denotes something materialistic, soulless. Mr. Andrews was in politics to the extent that three times he was elected a member of the city board of education. He was a business man, serving as the business agent of the Santa Ana school system during the 11 years he was a member of the school board. But his efficient, self-sacrificing devotion to the duties of his office lifted his work above the materialism of ordinary business; his candid sincerity, his unfailing kindness in his dealings with people gave dignity to his political position. His every contact with the schools and with Yesterday's hero—Pete Donohue, Cincinnati pitcher, who let down the Robins with two hits and helped the Reds to a firmer grasp on first place as they won, 5 to 1.

The Yankees won their eighth straight, beating the Browns, 5 to 2. The victors making all their runs on homers—two by Ruth and one each by Combs and Meusel.

The Senators were held to six hits by John, Detroit hurler, and were shut out, 6 to 0.

A fourth inning rally that netted seven runs enabled the White Sox to beat Boston 9 to 7.

The Giants early two run lead was wasted and the Pirates won the first game of the series 6 to 3.

The Braves had one big inning against Chicago, making four runs in the fourth and the Cubs were beaten 5 to 1.

Cleveland went back into second place by spirited rallies in the last two innings, defeating the Athletics, 6 to 5.

Hornsbey sustained an injury to his foot, which may keep him out of the lineup for two or three days in a game which the Phillies won from the Cardinals, 6 to 2.

Much interesting matter, contributed by people with the community's welfare at heart, has been printed recently with regard to a lack of tourist business in Santa Ana. Many suggestions have been advanced with the view of improving the situation and several reasons have been pointed out as the probable cause of the average tourist's failure to visit Santa Ana. Prominent among the reasons given has been the thought that the policy of the local justice court, in sending speeding motorists to jail, has resulted in a general reluctance on the part of tourists to make Santa Ana a point of call.

Those who have defended the local justice court in its policy will be gratified to note that the Los Angeles courts have recently fallen in line with the Santa Ana idea and have been sending speeders to jail on a wholesale basis. Judge Joseph Chambers, in Los Angeles, has sentenced more than 300 excess speeders to jail in the past 10 days and it has apparently not checked the tourist traffic to any alarming extent.

Analysis of the justice court records will convince any man that the tourists are not being sent to jail. A number of visitors in Southern California have been killed in traffic accidents recently, but the records testify that the California residents, not the tourists, are doing the speeding. No tourist, who wishes to get the full benefit of his trip, will speed through Southern California. He is here to see the country and California is too interesting and far too beautiful to justify a desire for speed on the part of a visitor. It is the opinion of the justice court that the people of Southern California should slow up and give the poor, bewildered tourist a chance.

It would be interesting to know just how many touring visitors Santa Ana should be expected to entertain on the average day. The registers at the three principal hotels show an average of 32 visitors each, per day. All the remaining hotels in the city combined show an average per day of 45 more. The auto park on North Main street accommodates from 10 to 50. Many tourists pass through in the day, stop at the various restaurants but leave no record of their visit, without taking into consideration the tourists who are here only during the day and require no special accommodation, there is an average of approximately 170 per day. Considering that Santa Ana is not a "tourist town," that seems to be rather a satisfactory average. If those figures may be taken as fairly accurate, and if they are multiplied by the number of days in a year, the result shows that 62,500 tourists spend some time in Santa Ana during the year, at the present rate of travel.

Santa Ana is not a "tourist town." It could not and should not be so regarded. A "tourist town" is a place where special attractions are arranged and capitalized, with the object of catching the tourist's attention and getting his money while the getting is good. Tia Juana is a "tourist town," but nobody wants to live there excepting the people who can make money from the tourists. It has been suggested that if the people of Santa Ana will take pains to see that all the tourists carry away a favorable impression, the town will add 62,500 walking advertisements to its list of friends every year.

Demand for Good Acreage

Orange county citrus groves are in demand and interest in this type of investment is keener now than at any period during the past two or three years, according to Romaldo Berger, manager of the C. B. Berger company, 602 North street, one of the pioneer real estate concerns in the county.

Berger says his opinion is supported by the volume of deals his company has made since the first of the year and by transactions the company has in escrow.

"We have been having a run on orange groves," Berger said. "It seems good to get back to a real active market in citrus property. After all, this is one of the most, if not the most, basic industries we have in this country. It seems as though all those who have been asleep to our wonderful opportunities here in the growing and marketing of Valencia oranges, and who have sat aside and let others gradually acquire this type of income producing property which is obviously becoming more and more limited, are suddenly awakening to the realization of this and are trying to get into the band wagon while the getting is so good. We find that there are those who are willing, for one reason or another, to dispose of part or all of their holdings at reasonable prices, and as long as we are able to list orange groves at prices fairly commensurate with the value of the property, we expect to have an active market."

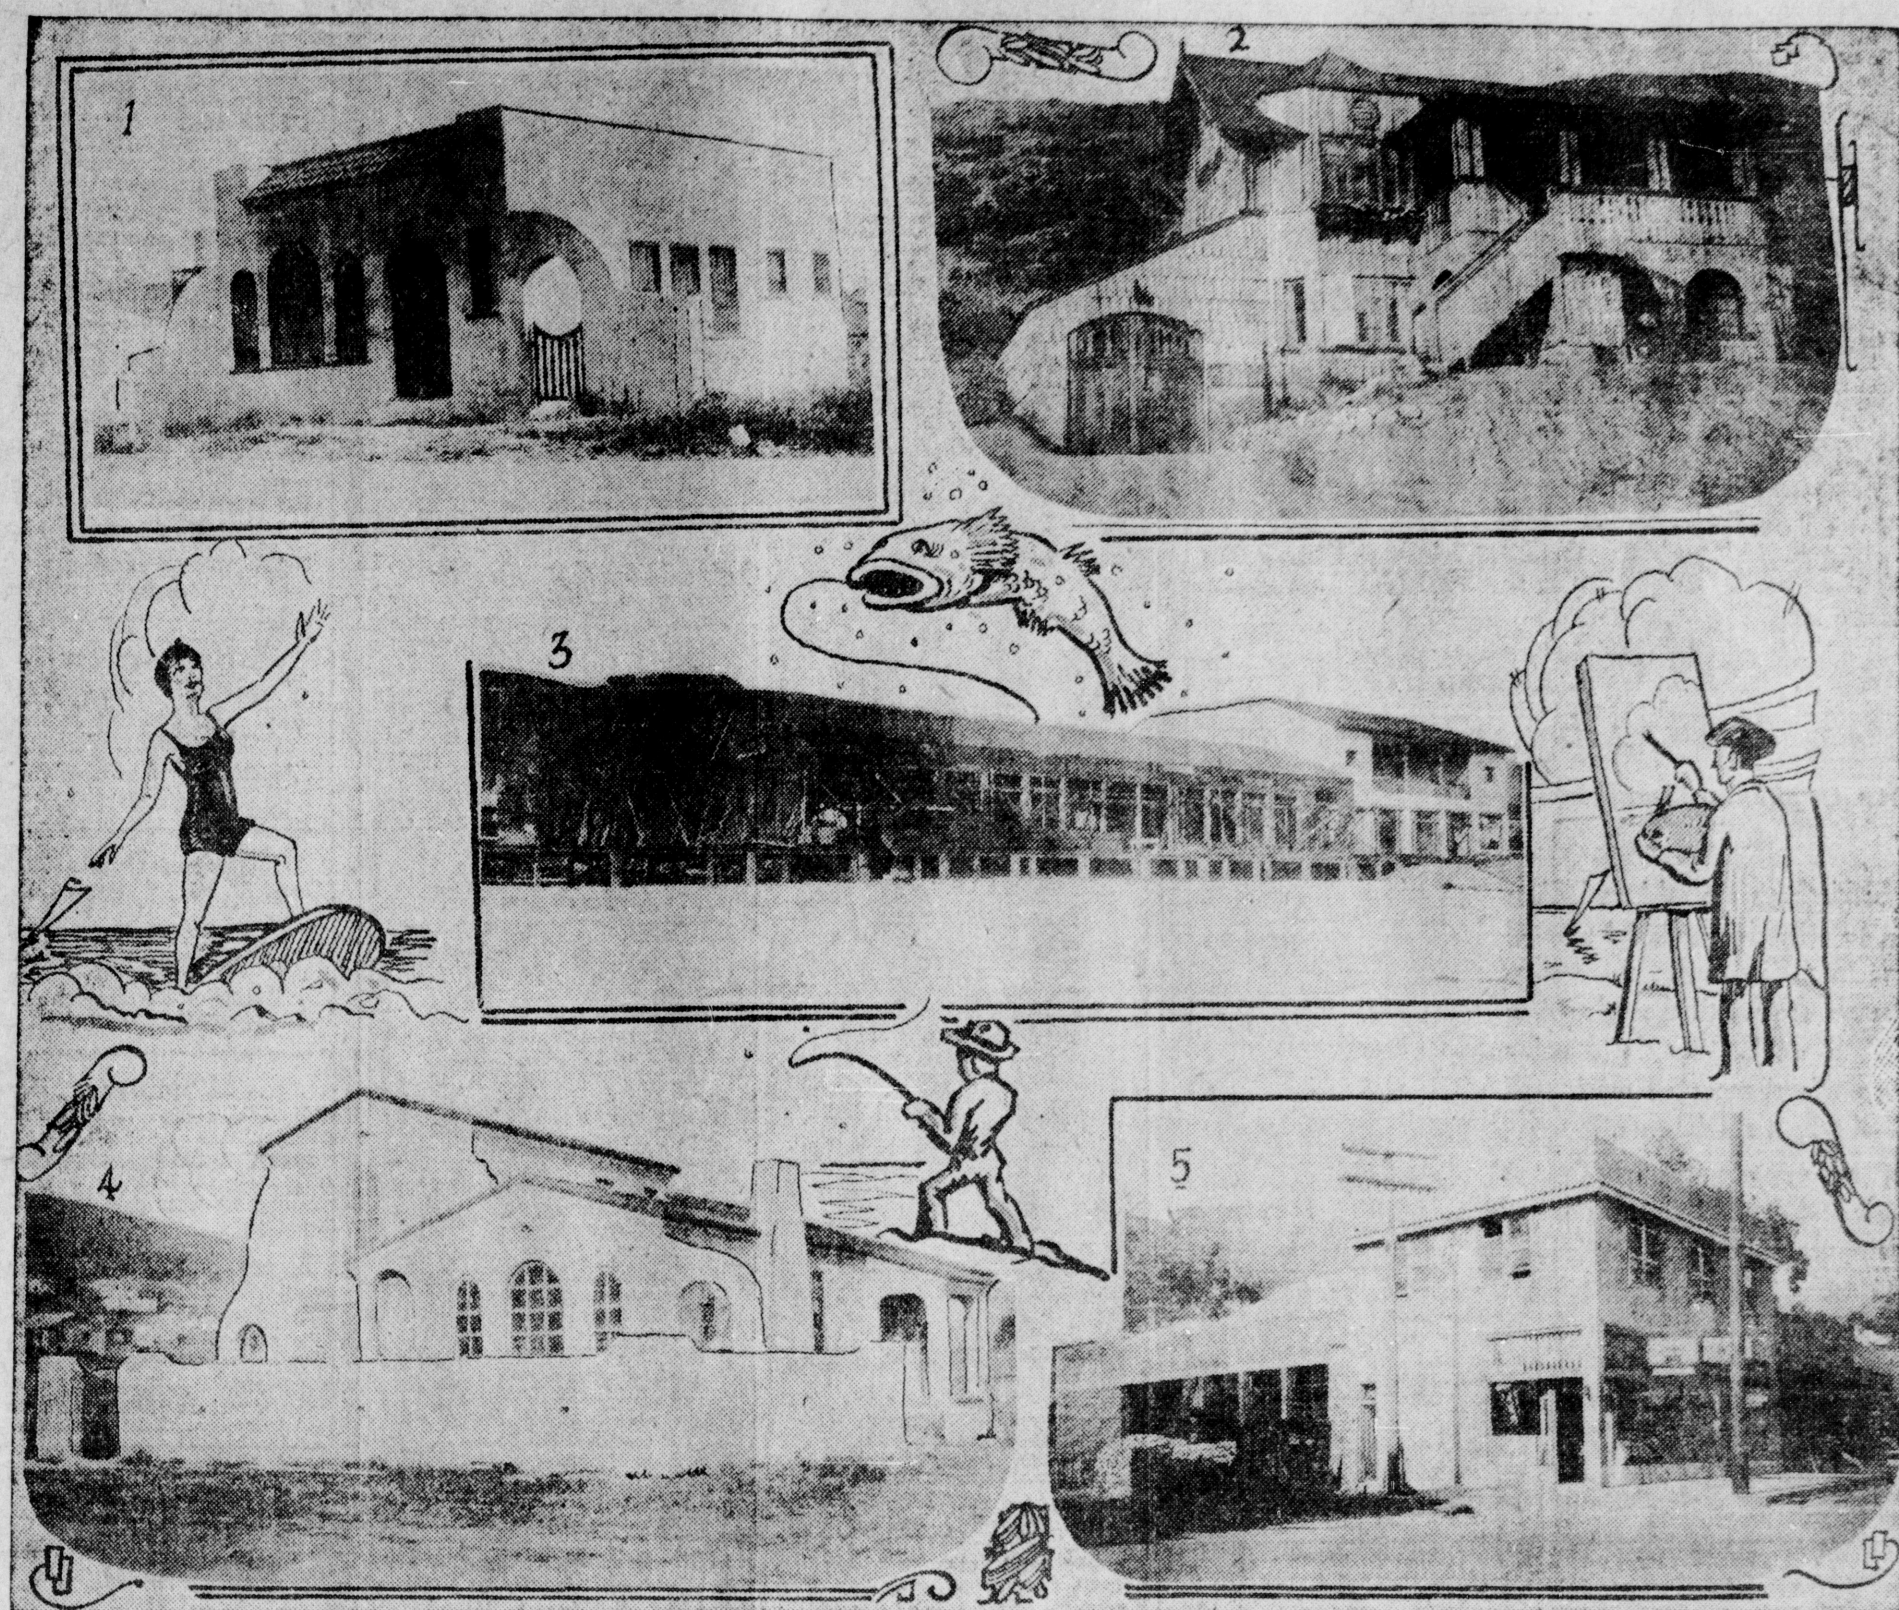

The Roy Carmichael five-acre orange grove, situated four miles northwest of Santa Ana and two miles southwest of Anaheim, has been sold to Otto Keup, who for years has grown avocados and oranges on his home orchard on the Ball road.

C. W. Clasen, formerly of Long Beach and recently a resident of Santa Ana, has bought the west 10 acres of the old J. L. Lockwood 20 acre orange grove, situated on the county boulevard and about three miles west of Anaheim. This property is improved with producing Valencia orange trees and a modern home. The new owner has planted 2300 boxes, which is estimated to be one-half the crop for this year. The consideration was $40,000 cash.

The John Eells 15-acre home and orange grove, situated at the intersection of Loara road and Burton avenue, Anaheim, was traded to the Missouri State Life Insurance company, Eells taking as part payment a 1200-acre cattle ranch in the mountains, northeast of Fresno. The balance of the consideration,

COMMANDER OF U. S. VESSEL BOOSTER FOR CALIFORNIA

Captain D. F. Tozier, commander of the Grant, the first government vessel to install radio equipment, is a genuine booster for Southern California. It was disclosed today by J. A. Ricker, of this city, who has a letter written from Baltimore, Md., by Tozier to A. L. New, cousin of Postmaster General New, who is sojourning in Southern California. New was a guest at the home of Ricker here on Sunday.

In a paragraph, commenting on New's intended departure for his home in the east, the captain said: "To think of a man of your intelligence and political wisdom leaving a land that God has done so much for as he has for Southern California, and going to such a God-forgotten place as Indiana, is more than I can understand! There is not a square inch of California that I do not love, excepting the penitentiary grounds! And I would rather be in there than in any place in the east, so help me!"

"Southern California is as near heaven as I expect to get, and I shall be on an exploring expedition before long, I reckon. You know I was 82 years old last September. I may be ready to accompany you on your return to God's country, with a capital 'C'."

Ricker related that Captain Tozier was given a very fine sword by King George for acts of bravery in saving the crew of a British ship some 20 years ago. Presentation, however, was made only about one year ago, the delay being due to failure of Congress to pass an act permitting acceptance of the gift. The sword was presented to Captain Dozier at Baltimore by the British ambassador.

SAN CLEMENTE SALES $975,000

With approximately $975,000 worth of property sold since Ole Hanson opened his San Clemente tract below San Juan Capistrano and with completion of the installation of the water system expected within two weeks, immediate activity in the way of building on the tract is anticipated by Hanson and his associates.

Completion of the water system will make it possible for lot owners to execute plans for erection of new residences, according to Trafal Huteson, son-in-law of the subdivider and one of the salesmen for the tract.

Fifteen or 20 residences have either been completed or are under construction at this time, the sale manager said, in pointing out

PIONEER BOYS TO TAKE BIBLE EXAMS

Bible study examinations will be the center of attraction tonight for Y. M. C. A. boys.

About 125 members of Pioneer clubs will meet at 7:15 for their annual Bible study tests. During the season, they have been following a course of Bible study entitled "A Boy's Problem," studying under the direction of the various club leaders.

Not all the club members will undertake to pass the test, but the 125 who are expected will represent almost every club in the Santa Ana district. There are 19 Pioneer clubs in Santa Ana and vicinity this year, in addition to 13 groups of older boys, all following appropriate lines of Bible study and other activities.

Last year, the Santa Ana association won a place on the honor roll of all American Y. M. C. A.'s for the number of boys passing the Bible study examinations.

On Saturday, May 29, the last Pioneer roundup of the season will be held in the Y. M. C. A. building here, when the boys will meet for a swim, gymnastic contests, a barbecue dinner and general entertainment.

DOWNTOWN DISTRICT

Finest Dancing Pavilion in

Faith of Laguna Beach in itself and a demonstration of the fact that the little town by the sea has enough skilled men to perform the various branches of building work necessary, are two of the outstanding features of the renewed building activity following the passage of the $600,000 water bond issue last January. With the single exception of the steel girders for one building, which were furnished through a Laguna Beach contractor, all of the materials for 15 or 20 buildings under course of construction are regular stock with Laguna Beach firms.

Steady Growth Seen.

Instead of a great building boom, the contractors of Laguna Beach believe there will be a steady growth a little above normal. The biggest building program will come after the water has actually been turned in from the completed water system, in the opinion of those who have watched the growth of the town.

The building that is being rushed to completion at the present time is to meet demands for the coming summer season, largely, and is based on the hope that the temporary supply of good water will be turned into the mains before the first of July. Also, about that time, the paved highway will be opened from Newport Beach to Laguna Beach.

Business Section Changed.

Those who have been away from Laguna Beach for several months will scarcely recognize the business section of the town, and persons who visit the beach resort only in the summer time will think they are in a strange place. Since last summer, the old administration building of the Villa has been stuccoed and revamped into a pleasing building for the Mills cafe. The White House, on the hill, has been set back to the new boulevard property line and rebuilt and is one of the imposing structures of the mid-section of town. Between the White House and the Yoch building, C. D. Bronner, owner of the White House, has built a modern Spanish type building containing two store rooms. The front is ornamental brick and the design unique.

The first building to be completed following the little boom that came with the passage of the water bonds was the new exchange of the Laguna Beach Telephone company at Foster avenue and Beach street. This structure, which is on the mission stucco type, is similar in architecture to the exchange at Brea. The finished building and equipment represents an outlay of $7500. Thompson and Thompson, of Laguna Beach, were the contractors. E. H. Cookingham, of Huntington Beach, is president of the company; George S. McCue, secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. Mable McCue, manager. Romance of a Nickel

We may, but you must not get peevish if our re-treading wears too long.

It all started with a savings bank and a nest-egg nickel. And when those savings crept up, young Whittenberg took his 12 years of age and ran away to the Plains Country of Texas.

It's romance now. For a conservative estimate of Mr. G. A. Whittenberg's wealth is $40,000,000. The Amarillo oil strike did it.

There's no money like that in the tire business. We plug along here day after day flitting with the hams in the butchers' show cases and wishin', wishin'. But while we do not make millions in money we have millions of good wishes and good feelings. There hasn't been a "mad" man in here for so long we almost wish one would come. These tires deliver. We guarantee 'em that way and that's the trick. That's all there is to it. Try us.

WEST COAST-WALKER.

There is excellent and exciting screen entertainment at the West Coast-Walker theater tonight, for "Bride of the Storm," a J. Stuart Blackton production, opened there yesterday with Dolores Costello in the stellar role. This is the film version of that thrilling story "Maryland, My Maryland," written by James Francis Dwyer, and Marian Constance has omitted none of the original thrills in her scenario. It is so crammed with breathless moments that even the most jaded of picture goers could not claim boredom at any part of the photoplay.

Dolores Costello—whose wistful, fragile beauty and splendid acting, won her stellar laurels after her performance in "The Sea Beast," starring John Barrymore—makes a lovely and appealing heroine. Even in the shabby, graceless dress she wears, her charming personality glows and the sincerity of her acting is apparent. Older stars in the industry are already looking to this gifted young newcomer to outshine them all.

The supporting cast is one of the most brilliant assembled in recent pictures, with such consistently stirring performances being given that the entire performance takes on a most remarkable strength and power. In includes John Harron, Tyrone Power, Sheldon Lewis, Otto Mattleson, Julia Swayne Gordon and others.

WEST END THEATER. Deviation from the well beaten path of race track motion picture stories, Scott Sidney presents "The Million Dollar Handicap" in a manner that is more than gratifying.

The production which was shown at the West End theater last night, marks a departure in presenting a well known picture theme. In selecting this type of story, Sidney knew what he had—he also knew what the motion picture fans like—and gave them more than a generous quantity of thrills, speed and comedy.

In lieu of one dashing race—he gives us two. There are many genuinely dramatic moments as well as generous dashes of real comedy.

Vera Reynolds as the heroine, rides the race that thrills, and the portrayals by Edmund Burns, her sweetheart, as well as those by Ralph Lewis, Tom Wilson and Ward Crane are outstanding bits in the production. Novel situations, thrilling and humorous, spot the picture. The work of the supporting cast is meritorious.

YOST THEATER

A famous minstrel man, Harry Van Fossen, is on tonight's vaudeville program at the Yost theater. While Van Fossen has traveled with Dockstader, Al G. Fields and Honey Boy Evans, he has departed far from the old time style of entertainment. In his departure, he has proven himself original and clever, for he has evolved a blackface entertainment entirely his own. A recent triumph of his resulted when he was selected to play the Frank Tinney role for two seasons in "Watch Your Step."

Hofer Building Garage.
When the new line of the Coast boulevard was cut through Laguna Beach, it lopped off several buildings between Ocean and Forest avenues. While some property owners lost frontage, Edward G. Hofer, who owned the dance hall property, found his property facing the boulevard. In a deal with Perry Warren, who owns the corner of Ocean avenue and the boulevard, there was an exchange that gave each an advantage. Mr. Warren has completed a two-story Spanish type office and store building and Mr. Hofer is building a modern garage for H. Y. Smith of the Coast garage.

The Warren building was designed by George N. Brown. It has a frontage of 48.8 feet on the boulevard and 32 feet on Ocean avenue. Due to the diagonal line of the boulevard, which makes a turn at that point, the east end of the lot has a depth of 14 feet. The Warren property actually came to a point with the Hofer dance hall property, owing to the new survey, but through a trade, Mr. Hofer got a small triangular piece, giving him a boulevard frontage of 57 feet, and Mr. Warren got a parcel 42 by 5 feet on the back of his lot, giving him a depth of 33 instead of 27 feet.

The Hofer building is a brick construction, the roof being supported by four steel girders. Five 6 by 8 skylights will furnish light for the interior. The work is being done under the supervision of Carl E. Hofer, son of the owner. The building will be one of the largest ever constructed in Laguna Beach and will be open May 23 with a big barn dance for the benefit of the Laguna library fund. There will be a service station on the boulevard side, which will have a huge market as a feature. On the Ocean avenue side, a 16-foot doorway will permit of the passage of two cars.

Build Big Dance Hall.
The finest dance hall in Orange county is being built on their old dance hall property by George N. Brown and Joseph A. Farrell. It will face on Coast boulevard and the board walk. The building is 100 feet square and will have four stores in front 25 by 25 each and a dancing floor space of 7500 square feet, nearly double the old capacity. The elevation on the ocean side will be marked by a glass front. The circular roof, rising from 14 to 22 feet in the center, will be a distinct feature. The general type will be Spanish stucco. It is expected that the building will be completed the first week in June.

At the corner of the board walk and Ocean avenue, the Yoch company is building the finest bath house south of Long Beach. It will be modern in every way and is one of the best looking buildings in Orange county. It was designed by Miss Florence Yoch, working in collaboration with N. Elliot West, manager of the Yoch company. It is on the site of the old bath house.

The bath house will occupy 3500 square feet and be strictly modern in every way. The first floor will be for women and the upper story for men. The plumbing will be of the newest design and include hot and cold showers. The women's department will have electric hair dryers and convenient mirrors, and many little conveniences so necessary to the up-to-date bathing pavilion.

Plan Hot Plunges.
One of the unique features will be individual hot salt water plunges. These rooms will be 3-1-2 by 10 feet and the tubs will be large enough for a good "swim". The bath house will be open year round and the promoters expect the plunges will prove very popular in the winter months.

The capacity of the bath house will be 450 persons at one time, or about 1500 for a full day. Dressing rooms, 3 by 3-1-2 feet, will be provided for the patrons on ordinary days. When the rush days come, the guests will be accommodated in locker rooms. Comfortable dressing rooms will connect with the locker rooms.

On the ground floor there will be the office and a small cafe and lunch room, and the women's quarters. The upper floor will be devoted to accommodations for the men, with the exception of one small apartment for the caretaker.

$7000 Home Being Built.
H. C. Hind is building a magnificent home for E. C. Page in Sunset hills, on a point of land just back of the Snyder place at the head of Diamond street. It will be a stucco house to blend with the hills and will cost about $7000. It will be well built and modern throughout and the architecture will conform to the different floor levels made necessary by the shape of the lot. A feature of the home will be a specially designed fireplace of mosaic tile. Also, there will be a fireplace in the patio. The building will be 60 by 25 feet over all. It will have six rooms.

Thompson and Thompson are building a fine home for Mrs. Pelie in the Pacific View tract. It commands one of the finest views in the Arch Beach district and is imposing, perched high up above the boulevard.

In this district, a Pasadena physician is building an addition to his summer home and Scott Lucas has the contract for a cabin in the Arch Beach Heights area.

Big Prisons Are Without Convicts

SOFIA, May 20.—Several prisons in large towns of Bulgaria are closed for lack of prisoners, and the judicial machinery of the country has virtually no cases of a political nature on the dockets. Todor Kuleff, minister of justice, attributes this state of affairs to the amnesty law voted by the sobranie.

that the management had refused permission to many owners to build until water was on the tract. It has been necessary to haul water for construction work that has been done.

Water is being developed in San Juan creek and is to be carried seven miles through an eight-inch pipe to a 600,000 gallon reservoir on the village site. The line to the reservoir is now being put down, and lines for the distribution system are being installed, installation having been completed on many of the streets in the tract.

Investigation at the tract yesterday revealed that Hanson has let the contract for removal of hundreds of cubic yards of dirt to reduce an elevation half a mile long to the level of the state highway, on the north side of the highway. The level area will extend back 60 feet from the boulevard, and will be part of the tract allotted to business house improvements.

Ideas and Ideals

Ana hotels. They say so. Their principal and first impression is that Santa Ana is an ideal resort. They appreciate the beauty and appreciate the strength of the town's surrounding back country. The tourists who receive proper courtesy from local people will carry away the thought that Santa Ana is a substantial, worthwhile place in which to live, in which to rear a family and to be happy. Santa Ana is the place to which tourists will want to return and build a home, after they have visited the "tourist town" of the country. It is suggested that we quit worrying about the number of tourists, and take good care of those we now have.

Curl is building a 20 by 24 frame cottage below Short street and south of Park avenue. Nearby, Mrs. Crawford is building a cabin.

J. E. Bishop is building for Mr. Robinson a stucco home next to the Bishop home on Jasmine at Monterey. A style of tile roof entirely new to Laguna Beach is being used.

Joyce and Wilkins are constructing one of the finest homes in Monterey Addition for Dr. D. Z. Knight's Addition for Dr. D. Z. Knight on his La Brea street property, almost opposite to the Seward A. Simons home. There will be five rooms and a garage, and a room over the garage.

John L. Brickels is building an addition to his "Eyre" cottage at Arch Beach.

GOLDEN WEDDING EVENT DRAWS 65

ORANGE, May 20.—Celebrating the golden wedding anniversary of Captain and Mrs. G. R. Huddy, friends of the couple from Orange, Santa Ana, El Toro and other Orange county communities gathered in the parish hall of the Episcopal church here last night to do honor to the pair.

Sixty-five guests crowded the artistically decorated hall to congratulate Captain and Mrs. Huddy. Since 1892, the couple have been residents of Orange county. Coming over from England, Captain and Mrs. Huddy settled in El Toro, where a 20-acre apricot ranch occupied their attention. After a long residence in El Toro, they purchased a home at 215 North Shaffer street, Orange, in 1920, and have been local residents since.

Captain Huddy is a retired sea captain. For 30 years, he sailed the seven seas in the old time clipper ships.

At last night's festival, Captain Huddy once again donned his mariner's uniform. Mrs. Huddy wore a valued shawl of her grandmother's.

The reception was in charge of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Jardine, 1509 Bush street, Santa Ana; Mrs. Agnes Hill, Orange, and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wulff, Villa Park. Mrs. Jardine is a daughter of the Huddys.

Anniversary presents of gold trimmed chinaware and several large baskets of flowers were presented to the couple following their entrance to the strains of a wedding march.

Guests included the following: Mary J. Jardine, E. W. Jardine, Isabelle Jardine, Louise Wulff, Jack Wulff, Elsie Wulff, C. H. Blancher, Mrs. C. H. Blancher, Stanley H. G. Hill, Mrs. O. Cathedral May Fall to Pieces

BERLIN, May 20.—Close on the heels of the discovery that Cologne cathedral is in danger of crumbling to pieces comes the announcement that the beautiful Mayence cathedral also is in jeopardy.

The cathedral, parts of which are 900 years old, is known as the "hoodoo house of worship," because of the numerous misfortunes it has suffered through fire, earthquake and war. The cathedral's unlucky streak started on the day in 1911 when Archbishop Willigis dedicated the edifice as a completed whole. Fire destroyed a considerable portion of the interior.

Now the pile foundations have rotted so that one engineer said he was amazed that the edifice has not collapsed.

reported to be $50,000, was in cash. Harry Saulsbury, who has been taking care of his father's 20-acre orange orchard, purchased through the Berger company from John O. Reed about three years ago, has bought 15 acres, situated a mile west of Anaheim from F. E. Moore, of Santa Ana. The consideration is given at $50,000. No trade was involved.

J. W. Broomwell, for years a successful orange grower near Santa Ana, has purchased five acres of the John Kirsch orchard for $27,500. The orchard is situated west of Anaheim on Magnolia road. There are no improvements in the way of buildings, the tract being set solid to Valencia oranges about 14 years old. The new owner has since sold the crop for $6000.

PLANES CRASH OVER
GRAVE OF AVIATOR

WARSAW, May 20.—A serious airplane accident occurred in Warsaw during the funeral of Col. Siednicki, inspector of the Polish army flying corps who was killed in an airplane accident.

An airplane squadron flew over the cemetery to render farewell honors and in the fog, three airplanes came into collision and one crashed to the ground. The pilot was killed on the spot.

Another landed heavily and the two occupants were only bruised. The third airplane did not crash, but the shock of the collision threw the pilot out of the machine and he was killed.

Our Neighbors

SANTA BARBARA.—The Santa Barbara county board of supervisors has taken steps to plant shade trees along the county and state highways. The forestry board recently was organized and this week it was given full jurisdiction over all county parks.

ONTARIO.—Determination of the city council members to make Ontario the original "spotless town" is seen in their action in ordering City Service Manager Roen to clean lots of weeds and rubbish in all instances where property owners fail to comply voluntarily with clean-up requests and to collect the cost the work by civil court action. Manager Roen reports that while many property holders have displayed a fine spirit in co-operation during the recent clean-up week, there are still many weed-grown lots in need of attention. An anti-weed ordinance gives the city power to collect for cleaning expenses. Russian thistle and other obnoxious weeds were reported to threaten to become a serious menace in some parts of the city.

OWENSMOUTH.—Thirty thousand boxes of the finest lemons ever gathered in this section have been harvested from the 400 acres of groves in the elevated lands about three miles west of this town site. The season is asserted to be the best in the history of the orchards and the quality of the highest sort. Picking will be resumed within the next 30 days, and another large crop is expected. Many of the lemon trees in the groves are in their fifth year, the major part of them being a year or two older.

WHITTIER.—Forty-nine cars of lemons and 47 cars of oranges were shipped during the past week by the Whittier District Fruit exchange. The Valencia orange season is well under way and the seven packing houses comprising the Whittier District Fruit exchange are operating with a full quota of packers. The navels are practically out of the way, as far as large shipments are concerned. The warm weather has added an impetus to the market, which during the cold weather was decidedly dull.

SAN DIEGO.—San Diego's new city directory has appeared with a list of 66,498 names. Using the customary multiple of two and one-half, which allows for the wife and children under 18 years of age, the population of this city is estimated at 149,420, an increase of 13,000 during the last year. The directory was published by Frye & Smith and comes out before the usual time of publication. It contains, in addition to the alphabetic list of names, a household guide and a classified business directory of the country.

Rye, Barley Are Ordered In Bread

PARIS, May 20.—At the instance of the minister of agriculture, a decree has been issued ordering that bread sold to the public shall contain an admixture of eight per cent of rye, in default of that substitute for wheat, the same percentage of barley or rice.

This measure is taken partly to moderate the continued tendency of bread to rise in price—the latest price is 11.95 for a kilogramme. A return of existing stocks does not show a sufficient supply of good wheat. The return to the employment of substitutes is therefore made to avoid the necessity of buying foreign wheat at the current rate of exchange, as such purchases would have a serious effect on the balance of the budget.

How to make Strawberry Jam

keep the color and flavor of the fresh berries

Your jam will taste enough like fresh berries to use in strawberry shortcake if you make it this new, easy, short-boil way with Certo. Save the following recipe to use for your first batch of strawberry jam.

Cut in halves lengthwise with stainless knife about 2 quarts of small or medium-sized fully ripe berries. After halving, weigh out 2 lbs. berries, or measure 4½ level cups of berries, packing solidly into the cup until juice and fruit come to the top of the cup. Add 7 level cups (3 lbs.) sugar and mix well. Use hottest fire and stir constantly before and while boiling. Bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard for 2 to 3 minutes. Remove from fire and stir in ¼ cup Certo. Skim and stir repeatedly for just 5 minutes after taking from fire, to cool slightly. Pour quickly and cover hot jam at once with hot melted paraffin.

The short boiling time, possible only with Certo, prevents the loss of delicate flavor and the darkening in color which used to occur during the old long boil. It also gives you a larger amount of jam, since you save the large quantity of juice which used to boil away.

Certo is a pure fruit product—the jellying substance of fruit refined and bottled. A book of simple recipes comes with each bottle.

Your grocer carries Certo, or you trial half-size bottle which will make from 6 to 10 glasses of jam or jelly, depending upon the recipe used. Address: Douglas-Pectin Corporation, 1561 Granite Building, Rochester, N. Y.—Adv.

JUVENILE WORK EXPERT ORANGE COUNTY VISITOR

Detention homes, industrial schools and similar institutions, maintained for the care and education of delinquent or abandoned children, should be under the supervision of carefully selected persons, who, by education, training and temperament, are peculiarly fitted to deal with children. In the opinion of Mrs. Harper M. Harper, registered in the Hotel Santa Ana.

Mrs. Harper is chairman of the juvenile home committee of Humboldt county. Prior to her appointment on this committee, she served on the grand jury. She attended the California Conference of Social Work, held early this month in Pasadena. Since that time she has visited detention homes in various parts of the Southland, including that of Orange county. Tomorrow, she will visit the Whittier state school, following which she will confer with Dr. Miriam Van Waters, Los Angeles, president of the California Conference of Social Work and referee of the juvenile court of Los Angeles.

Confers With Cranston
During her visit in this city, she had a lengthy conference with J. A. Cranston, city superintendent of schools and chairman of the Orange county juvenile home committee. She also conferred with Leroy A. Warren, county probation officer, and Dr. James Workman, chairman of the juvenile committee of the Santa Ana Knights of the Round Table.

Her observations during the trip will be set forth in a report to be submitted to the county juvenile committee of Humboldt county.

She was favorably impressed with the excellent work carried on in San Diego county, where the detention home is an ideal institution in many respects. In this place every effort is being made to get away from the deadly prison atmosphere, which, wherever retained, works against the best interests of the children.

The visitor was greatly pleased with the work carried on by the Santa Ana Knights of the Round Table among juvenile delinquents. The work pioneered by the Santa Ana table, has been adopted by other tables, including that of Eureka.

Community Problem
"The care and welfare of delinquent children, often the victims of adverse circumstances, is a community problem, which should have the constant attention of all civic minded citizens," she observed.

Mrs. Harper was impressed with Superintendent Cranston's ideas on juvenile delinquency to the end that it should be handled as an educational problem instead of one of penalogy.

Old Castle Has Clouded Title

BERLIN, May 19.—One of the many intricate problems that confront the government in connection with settlement of claims of former German ruling houses is that involving the ownership of Hohenzollern castle, near Sigmaringen, in southern Germany.

William II lays claim to the castle itself, a monumental structure erected in 1850 on the ruins of the original castle, which was destroyed in 1423. It is his misfortune, however, that the castle stands upon a conical, calcareous rock, which belongs to Prince Frederick Victor, son of the late Prince Wilhelm of Hohenzollern, whose brother is now king of Rumania.

But even should the former Kaiser arrive at a satisfactory arrangement with the Sigmaringen branch of the family, he is still faced by the fact that the arsenal and the bastion, as well as the approach to the castle, belong to the state of Prussia.

Man Makes $66 in One Day

In a recent issue of Liberty Magazine, Mr. H. King writes that he made $66 in one day just sharpening razor blades with an amazing new stropper called KRIS-KROSS that he demonstrated. He sold these stroppers as fast as he could have them made. Another man made $200 in 7 days under the same easy plan. KRIS-KROSS is entirely new and different from anything else on the market. The inventor will explain how men can make $75 to $150 a week steady average and offers to give a mystery razor free to men who write at once for full details. No obligation. Address: H. H. SUPERIOR SERVICE HOPE OF SUCCESS

WASHINGTON, May 19.—Only through their superior service in marketing both to producer and consumer can the nation's "co-operatives" hope to attain permanent success, W. M. Garrard, manager of the Staple Cotton Growers' Co-operative association, told the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, in session here.

Garrard warned against any selfish, autocratic, price fixing idea in the co-operative movement. Unless the control and power vested in co-operatives is based upon service primarily, he declared, "such control would be abused to such an extent that it would ultimately destroy the association."

"There seems to be two pretty well defined classes of individuals in their thinking on this subject," Garrard explained. "One group believes that ultimate success depends upon commodity control. Probably those who hold this belief are in the majority."

"Another group is equally as certain that no permanent success can be assured if success is based solely on the control idea. In fact they believe that service is the only sure road to success." Garrard, who has been associated with the cotton co-operative during its five years of existence, stressed the importance of the individual members making concessions that redound to the good of the entire association. He showed how this had been done when cotton prices were low and one of the directors of the co-operative sacrificed his stocks to give manufacturers the benefit of low prices without attempting to hold the stocks for a more favorable market.

"Superior service" is necessary to justify the existence of any co-operative, said Garrard. The quality of the article should be standardized.

Rogers Hornsby, boss of the St. Louis Cardinals and just about the best hitter in baseball, says the day of the 400 clouter is over and furthermore, Rogers adds, the hitter who tops both major leagues this year will have hit around .350 and he'll be lucky to do that.

Rogers gives as his reasons for this prediction the fact that the official ball has been deadened—and to a lesser degree—the rule which allows the national league pitchers to use resin.

"The ball has been deadened," Hornsby was quoted as saying, "there is no question about that. The lively ball disappeared late last summer and it hasn't come back. You can tell the ball isn't as lively by looking at the hitting so far this spring; there aren't the home-runs and there aren't those great big averages."

Commenting on the number of stops that infielders are making behind second base this year, Hornsby blamed the dead ball for this.

"You'll see shortstops getting balls behind second base this year and second basemen going behind first for balls that they couldn't even have touched with the old balls," he said.

The use of resin should bring about an improvement in pitching, Hornsby said.

"Resin gives the pitcher a better grip on the ball, and helps him get more of a break on his curves, and

CITY LEAGUE MOUND PHENOM
BLANKS POLE-CLIMBERS WITH TWO HITS, FANS 21 BATTERS

Members of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company indoor baseball team today knew something of the feeling rival hitters had when they went up to look over the "swift" of Walter Johnson when the "big train" of the Washington Americans was in his palmist days. The Pole-Climbers last night took a look at the fast ball pitching of Jimmy Mansfield, the Santa Ana City League's latest sensation, and they didn't like it at all—no sir! not at all.

WEST

HERE'S THERE
LOCAL SPORTS
By Eddie West

It won't be long now until the Portland Beavers, one of the pennant contenders in the Pacific Coast league, make their first pilgrimage to Southern California and it would be concrete evidence of civic pride and good fellowship if Santa Ana and Laguna Beach baseball fans band together and officially greet Ernie Johnson, the Portland manager and a mutual friend and citizen of both communities.

A city, it might be said, thrives on publicity, and, aside from the expression of appreciation and pride in a hustling ball player, fellow townsman and regular fellow that would go with it, such a reception would be one genuine, legitimate way of telling the world that Santa Ana and Laguna Beach are happy to claim Johnson as a townsman and as a friend.

It is safe to guarantee that city newspapers would acknowledge the fact that a delegation of Johnson's friends and boosters from his home towns were at his first game in the Southland and presented him with a local piece or some other token of appreciation.

Johnson has scores of well-wishers in these two communities and, under proper promotion, an "Ernie Johnson Day" at Wrigley field in Los Angeles, where Portland opens against Hollywood June 6, could be converted into a gathering that would signify something fine and sincere.

The dope bucket has been rudely kicked. And the prognostications of the winter stove league have gone sadly awry. Did they not say that Philadelphia, Washington and St. Louis would provide pennant competition in the American league—quite ignoring the down-trodden Yankees? Did they not say the Pirates would gallop through the National league opposition, threatened only by the Giants and the Cardinals? And yet the Yankees have been stepping on the accelerator ever since the season begun. St. Louis has been in the muck and Philadelphia has just begun to show signs of life.

In the old league, Brooklyn and Cincinnati have been setting the pace, with the Cardinals and the Giants and the Pirates lagging behind.

Well, that is what makes baseball so fascinating. That explains why it is the national game. Its uncertainty—always the chance that the underdog will rise in his boots and clout the leaders on the coco.

23 High Schools
Enter Pentathlon

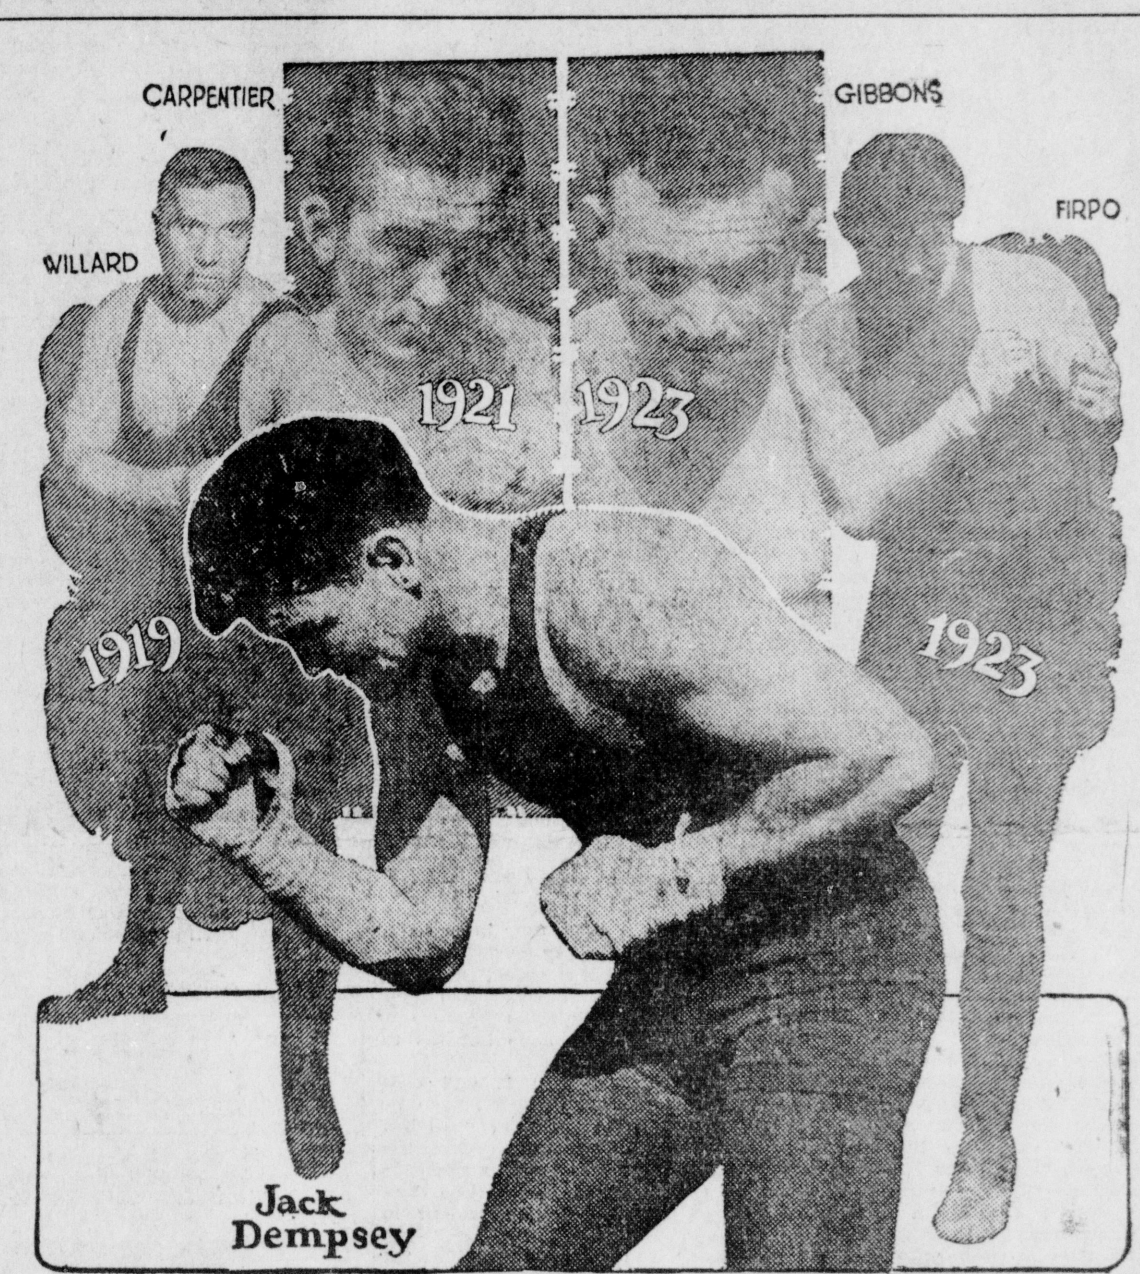

Monrovia, Calif., May 20.—Twenty-three Southern California high schools have entered the national pentathlon championship to be staged here Saturday.

They are Alhambra, Fullerton, Santa Ana, Huntington Park, Manual Arts of Los Angeles, Los Angeles, Owensmouth, Inglewood, Pasadena, Redondo, Tustin, Garden Grove, Long Beach, Hollywood, Montebello, El Monte, San Fernando, Rosemead of Los Angeles, Van Nuys, Glendale and Huntington Beach.

maybe a little more hop on his fast one. But that is not the main reason the leading hitter of the league is going to hit not more than .350. The slowing up of the ball is the important cause.

"There's one thing that this dead ball is going to do, and that's help the pitchers. I have always figured pitching as 80 per cent of any ball team. The pitching this season should tighten considerably and, certainly, the slugging will be less noticeable."

WILL DEMPSEY ADD ANOTHER TO THIS LIST?

CARDS HOPEFUL OF WINNING
NATIONAL COLLEGIATE TRACK
CHAMPIONSHIP IN EAST MEET

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, May 20.—The announcement that Stanford will be represented by the same thirteen men at the I. C. 4A., who brought her the Pacific Coast Conference championship last Saturday by scoring 49 1-3 points, has been received with great glee by Cardinal supporters.

From the Stanford standpoint, it is too bad that they don't have a mile relay at the Cambridge meet, for the redshirts would be almost sure of a first place in this event. The star Georgetown quartette, which has been the sensation of the east and has been hailed as great, has been doing around 3:20. The Cards were clocked at 3:17.6 last Saturday.

In addition to the relay, the Cardinals counted four first places in the P.C.C. meet and each of their winners must be considered very much a contender for five points at Cambridge. Take Miller in the quarter mile. He could not win his event at the I. C. 4A. with 49 flat, in all probability, but he can run much faster as his time of 47.2 in the last lap of the relay proved. Miller will be in high class field in the east and will probably have to run faster than ever before to win. His best recorded time for a quarter mile race is 48.6.

Richardson Best Bet
Bill Richardson, after meeting and defeating some of the best 880 men in the country, singly and collectively, has gone through the season undefeated and has proved himself the greatest half mile runner ever turned out on the Pacific coast. The Cardinal skipper has already proved his ability to cope with the eastern two-lap men and he is better this year than when he won the American tryouts for the Olympic games and placed at the games. He won his last two races in the splendid times of 1:53.8 and 1:54.2.

Vendale Harlow has become pretty consistent at 190 feet and better, in the javelin throw. His heave of 201 feet 14 inches last Saturday places him in a class with the best spear throwers in the country. It might not take a throw of 200 feet to win at the I. C. 4A.

Bob King has cleared 6 feet 4 inches or better three times this season in the high jump. On one occasion, he barely missed 6 feet 5 inches and on another he came mighty close to making 6 feet

6 inches. He can't be ruled out when it comes to considering first place possibilities.

Card Chances Figured
It is exceedingly difficult to compare the track athletes of the Pacific Coast with those of the Atlantic seaboard at this time because the easterners have not been outdoors long enough for critics to get much of a line on them. Basing calculations on past performances, however, the following is a fairly conservative estimate of the Cardinals' point scoring possibilities at the I. C. 4A. (At this meet, five places are counted scoring: 5, 4, 3, 2 and 1.)
Miller, third in the 440-3 points; Storrie, fifth in the 440-1 point; West, fourth in the high hurdles -2 points; Hoffman, third in the discus and fourth in the shot-5 points; Richardson, second in the half mile-4 points; Harlow, second in the javelin throw-4 points; Shipkey, fifth in the javelin throw-1 point; King, second in the high jump-4 points; Ross, fifth in the pole vault-1 point; Meeks, third in the broad jump-3 points; MacRae, fifth in the broad jump-1 point.

The above would net the Cards 29 points. Twenty-nine points might not be enough to win. It may be that 30 to 35 points will be necessary to the winner. Stanford, however, has an excellent chance to score more than the 29 given her above.

LOWLY BROWNS
IN BAD SLUMP,
CROSS CRITICS

By PAUL W. WHITE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, May 20.—Seldom have "experts" erred so badly as in summing up the pre-season possibilities of the St. Louis Browns. George Sisler's team has played its first game of the 1926 schedule in New York and the Missourians played as if they had just received bad news from home. Their brand of baseball was as despicable as this writer has seen this year, which is not surprising since the Browns have won but eight of 32 games and have a two game lead on the race for the cellar.

At the training camp it was held that the St. Louis team probably would be a contender and was certain of a first division berth. It seemed that the Browns had improved their battery department by the acquisition of Wally Schang, ex-Yankee, and the trading of Joe Bush to Washington for Tom Zachary and Wyn Ballou.

Mellillo, the second baseman, was declared a "find" and a promising season appeared inevitable.

But the Browns have hit the skids. Reports have been prevalent that Sisler would be replaced as manager. The report was put up to Sisler, who is out of the game with a sprained ankle sustained last week in Washington.

"So far as I know there is no ground for the rumor," he said. "Such talk is inevitable when a team isn't playing up to its form. I am certain that the Browns will not remain long in the cellar."

"The team has been handicapped by injuries and batting slumps," Sisler admitted that the strength of the American league is largely in the east. He sees Washington, Philadelphia and New York scraping it out all summer.

Both Walker and Latzo are in the best condition of their careers and a hotly waged and bitter battle is assured.

Ace Hudkins Fit

LOS ANGELES, May 20.—Ace Hudkins, Nebraska "wildcat," is clearing the decks for action in his two final Southern California fights before he leaves for New York.

The Nebraska lightweight is rapidly getting in condition for his bout with Tommy O'Brien at the Olympic auditorium next Wednesday night. In his last Southland bout for some months, Ace will meet Phil Salvador. The fight is scheduled for June 4 at Hollywood.

S. A. STARS TO CLASH IN MILE
HERE SATURDAY

Marks Made by Runners in Competition Show Them
To Be Evenly Matched

An argument of season long duration will likely be settled here Saturday afternoon when Harold Breeding, the Santa Ana high school sensation, and Bob Vawter, junior college ace, hook up at Poly field in a mile race as one of the features of the second annual Orange County A. A. U. track and field meet.

Although principal interest in this meet will be centered on the 100 yard dash in which Carley Borah, the great U.S.C. freshman sprinter who forced Charley Paddock to a new world record last Saturday, will be pitted against a field of such sterling mercury-foots as Murray Schultz of Caltech, Bob Lee of U.S.C., Cecil Howard of Compton high school and Al Claves of the Santa Ana junior college, the Breeding-Vawter duel should be one of the classics of the local season.

Great Race Expected
Vawter has it on his youthful rival in experience and he has run the distance several seconds faster but Breeding has proved himself a remarkable competitive athlete and Saturday may be the day for him to wind up his first season on the cinderpath with his fastest four laps.

Only one man, Jack Ferguson of Inglewood, has beaten Breeding this year. Ferguson did it in the Southern California interscholastic and the California state interscholastic meets. The Santa Ana boy, finishing second, was timed in 4 minutes, 35 seconds in the All-Southern affair.

Vawter was the class of the Southern California junior college distance runners during the past campaign. He was always good for first places in the 880 as well as the mile and the second place that he took in the half at the Southern California A.A.U. meet in Los Angeles last Saturday in proof conclusive that he is in condition to hold his own with his sensational townsman.

Vawter's best time for the mile this year was made on the Poly track in the Southern California Junior College Conference championships. He traversed the distance in 4 minutes, 34.7 seconds that afternoon. This is approximately two seconds better than Breeding's best mark for the grind.

Another sharp contest will be offered in the hurdle races between Bill Marriott of Tustin and Charles Webber of the Santa Ana junior college.

Women's specialty events are being arranged so as to match a team of Orange county feminine athletes against the girls of the Hollywood athletic club. Miss Thelma Patton will lead the Orange county team.

PAROCHIAL SCHOOLS
TO CLASH ON TRACK

Boys of the parochial schools of Orange county were keenly interested today in announcement that an athletic meet will be held at 2 p. m. June 6, at St. Catherine's school, Anaheim.

Athletes of the schools at Santa Ana, Fullerton and Anaheim are expected to participate in the program of events.

The Knights of Columbus councils of Santa Ana and Anaheim are sponsoring the meet, and it is expected the event will be largely attended.

NEWS from ORANGE COUNTY

ROTARY CLUB MEMBERS HEAR MEXICO FACTS

FULLERTON, May 20.—Stewart McKee, Los Angeles banker, gave an interesting address to the Rotarians at their weekly luncheon yesterday at McFarland's cafe. He was introduced by F. C. Krause, who was chairman of the program committee.

McKee outlined some of the advantages which exist along the Mexican west coast and also some of the disadvantages. He stated that there are many fertile valleys along the coast which could be planted to citrus fruits, tomatoes, cotton, etc. However, the main difficulty is the poor, crippled transportation facilities, he said. There are very few railroads outside of cities, and many times crops must be shipped thousands of miles because of the lack of railroads.

The development in the country along the coast is very slow, almost entirely due to the fact that Americans are prohibited from buying land by a certain law which exists there, McKee said. As a result, American banks cannot invest capital there. Mr. McKee said that Americans could get leases on land and that many Americans have settled down there and are farming the land successfully. He also stated that the Chinese controlled the merchandise business in Mexico.

The Rotary club expressed its appreciation for the Rotary bell and gavel which were donated to the club by Arthur Cleaver.

Joe Culberson, a local Rotarian and jeweler, exhibited an invention which he has just completed. The invention is a tower signal which is operated by a clock and does its work without added attention except at certain intervals.

W. P. Wishar, lieutenant commander in the United States coast guard service, and at the present time a guest at the home of C. C. Chapman, gave a short talk.

The pastor of the Fullerton Episcopal church, Dr. Moore, was welcomed into the Rotary body here. He was a Rotarian in Arizona prior to his coming here. He was introduced to the members, after which he gave a short talk also.

A short talk was made by Harry D. Riley, of the Anaheim Rotary club.

8 FINED AT BEACH ON SPEED CHARGES

NEWPORT BEACH, May 20.—Eight speeders yesterday contributed $56 to this city. City Recorder W. A. Leonard heard the cases and continued his policy of assessing a fine of $1 per mile in excess of 20 miles per hour. The local recorder is waging war on speeders in an effort to cut down speeding in the narrow streets of Newport Beach and Balboa.

Four persons were fined $15 each. They were R. J. Marshall, M. J. Oleson, S. Pierce and S. L. Davis. W. Christianson was fined $20. Three persons were fined $5 each. They were Mrs. O. Bryant, A. O. Spooner and G. R. Robison.

Acid Stomach

"Phillips Milk of Magnesia"

Better than Soda

Hereafter, instead of soda, take a little "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" in water any time for indigestion or sour, acid, gassy stomach, and relief will come instantly.

For fifty years genuine "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" has been prescribed by physicians because it overcomes three times as much acid in the stomach as a saturated solution of bicarbonate of soda, leaving the stomach sweet and free from all gases. It neutralizes acid fermentations in the bowels and gently urges the soothing waste from the system without purging. Besides, it is more pleasant to take than soda. Insist upon "Phillips." THE FRIENDSHIP TOUR

Yesterday's Friendship Tour carried to a number of cities a message of good will and good cheer. Through it, Santa Ana made it known that it believes in the spirit of co-operation, that it strives to go forward in harmony with its neighbors, unselfishly.

There is greater need for neighborliness among the cities of Southern California today than ever before. If for no other reason, self interest prompts friendliness. Many of our interests are in common.

Just now, of course, the Boulder dam project, which means much to all of us, is something that calls for united effort and understanding. But our mutual interests are not confined to any one project or subject.

Transportation and freight rates are of as much consequence to Riverside, Redlands, San Bernardino and Pomona as they are to Santa Ana, Orange, Anaheim and Fullerton. The tariff on oranges, lemons and walnuts, and the fight against devastating pests, are of as much importance in one area as in another, of these four counties.

Of great consequence and pressing interest in Orange, Riverside and San Bernardino counties just now is the question of water conservation. The three counties have been co-operating for years in reforestation and conservation, but the time seems to have arrived when these three counties must get closer together on this matter and must extend the work that has begun—extend it ten times or a hundred times so that a momentum may be attained that will quickly bring us to the point in conservation where there shall be no water running wastefully to the sea.

San Bernardino and Riverside residents come to our beaches and we travel in great numbers to the high mountains of the two interior counties. Politically our interests are almost identical. In fact, for years the three counties have been in the same congressional district, while Riverside and Orange counties have been in the same state senatorial district.

So there is good reason—practical reason—for friendship tours, in addition to the ethical reason to be found in the fact that a spirit of friendship should exist between the residents of cities everywhere, and especially between cities that paved roads have brought close together.

CENTERING ON YOUNG

By reason of the fact that C. C. Young, in the race for the Republican nomination for Governor of California, has gained strength all over the state, those who are not satisfied with Governor Friend W. Richardson are throwing their support to Young.

Young, by reason of the fact that he has gained the confidence of the people of the state through years of keeping the faith as a public official, has drawn to himself many thousands of people of the state. His integrity and his experience have commended him to the public in general. For himself alone, regardless of who his opponents might be, Young commands a tremendous vote in this state. Now, to that, is being added the strength of great numbers of men and women who believe that there should be a change in the gubernatorial position in this state. With them, the question is, "Who is the man who can beat Governor Richardson?" The answer seems now to be quite plain to them. It's Young.

The Register, however, is not in the latter class. We are not so much concerned with fighting Richardson as we are with the election of Young. That is, our advocacy of the nomination of C. C. Young is based not upon unfriendliness to Governor Richardson, for personally we are not unfriendly to him, and not upon close friendship for Mr. Young, though we count him as a friend. Our acquaintance, however, has been rather casual. Our advocacy is based solely upon the fact that we, as a newspaper, believe that of all the candidates who have appeared for the Republican nomination Lieutenant Governor Young is by far the best fitted, by reason of temperament and experience and in all those other qualifications that we believe essential to the best public service, for the high position of Governor of California.

That is the reason why Young has drawn to himself widespread support throughout the state, and that is the reason why today he is in a position to be given the support of a great and growing number of voters of the state who want to beat Richardson and who, in seeking whom they shall support, are not much concerned with who does it, just so long as he is the man to do it.

NOW FOR THE INACCESSIBLE

Lest anyone fear there is no exploring game left to play, now that the North Pole has become so crowded with flyers, let us hasten to mention Vilhjalmur Stefansson's "pole of relative inaccessibility." There's a goal to be tried for again and again, with no danger of ever exhausting its elusive charm.

At least, that is the way it appears to interested readers of articles on Arctic exploration. Even if someone did blunder upon that pole of inaccessibility, the fact would promptly end its inaccessibility and would necessitate starting a new search. Or wouldn't it?

Sure! It sounds a bit silly to anyone not up on these things. Rather like playing "Button, button, who's got the button?" with an iceberg.

TO STOP COAL STRIKES

The big British strike, which started with the tie-up of the coal industry and spread far beyond that, has had its effect in Washington. Congress, after long delay, gets busy with the American coal industry, which is in almost as unsatisfactory a state as the coal industry in England.

With the railroad labor bill out of the way, the Senate is considering a similar measure for the settlement of coal mining disputes. Compulsory features are omitted, as they were in the railroad bill. The President, however, is empowered in an urgent situation, to create a special coal board to determine whether an emergency exists, and in such a case the government could take charge of fuel distribution to prevent a coal famine or unreasonable prices.

For the first time, if the pending legislation goes through, definite machinery will exist by which the coal industry, under the friendly eye of the government, may more readily work out its own labor problems. The plan calls for a joint board of conciliation representing miners and operators, with provision for mediation outside if that body fails. On the face of it, such a measure commends itself to the public, and should commend itself to the coal industry.

Trading for Los Angeles

It is related in San Bernardino Sun in behalf of the proposed state reapportionment initiative measure that will be started this week or next, that the Los Angeles framers of the measure have made a concession to San Francisco by giving that city one more senator and one more assemblyman than would be possible under the "strictest construction." Los Angeles has waived its right to this additional senator and assemblyman in order to make the concession to San Francisco.

Yet we read in the very first sentence of a statement issued by the supporters of the bill: "The bill is upon a strictly constitutional plan."

It is the old, old story of political trading. As the measure stands San Francisco is to lose one senator and one assemblyman. To have taken two senators and two assemblymen from San Francisco would have aroused the bitterest kind of opposition, so although the measure is upon a "strictly constitutional plan" it has been determined to take away only one senator and one assemblyman. Perhaps this will be sufficient to arouse resentment in San Francisco.

But here at the very start of the reapportionment plan there is an effort at a trade by the political spokesmen of Los Angeles with the city of San Francisco. Many of the smaller counties of the state are apprehensive as to what would happen to the state treasury should it ever come to pass that the three great counties of the state, Los Angeles, San Francisco and Oakland, could sit their legislative delegations down and trade the rest of the state between themselves.

Los Angeles county plans to have 700,000 registered voters qualified to cast ballots in the next election, and it is the general theory in Los Angeles that at last that community has the voting strength to put over whatever it desires.

Under the reapportionment plan that is to be put on the ballot, Los Angeles county would gain six assemblymen and two senators, making a total of 21 assemblymen and 10 senators.

Whether the scheme will work, however, is somewhat doubtful. In addition to sectional jealousies there are many people who do not believe that either urban or rural sentiment should control the legislature. There is increasing support for the proposal that the cities should control one house and the rural sections control the other. Several eastern states have found this arrangement to work satisfactorily.

Alabama Prison Reform

Fresno Republican
One of the most hopeful signs of "state" activity for public service has been the series of uprisings of public opinion that have culminated in the house-cleaning in the Alabama state prison system. It is ever the privilege of the weak to be resentful of interference by the strong in the performance of duties that one should do for oneself. Certain southern states that have only in the last decade or two been recovering from the impoverishment of the last century, have been naturally reluctant about suggestions of help or of criticism from the outside. They are now doing these things for themselves. Humanity is not essentially different in one state or another. But humanity is everywhere variant according to its natural resources and its social accumulation of wealth. The South is growing rich. It can afford to be kind.

WARDING OFF ANEMIA

The classification of anemia is very simple. If by careful study we cannot determine the cause, we call it a primary anemia. If we know the cause, we speak of anemia as being secondary.

Examples of secondary anemias are those following hemorrhages of various kinds, those which occur in malnutrition or starvation or in chronic infections, such as are called blood poisonings and in pyrexia, malaria, rheumatism, diphtheria and other infectious diseases, and also in poisoning by certain drugs.

Among the secondary anemias are listed also those caused by animal parasites, such as hookworm and tapeworm.

The loss of a pint of blood by an adult will produce some temporary anemia; the rapid loss of two pints of blood will produce a severe anemia and the loss of two quarts of blood may produce death, directly or from anemia following.

Chlorosis is a fairly common disease in young girls. It is very important that this condition should be recognized early and properly treated. The disease develops generally at about the age of fourteen to sixteen—rarely as late as twenty.

It is common in young girls—seldom seen in boys. If untreated, chlorosis may last many years and may interfere seriously with school work. It is usually fairly easy to cure but it may return.

It is readily recognized by a competent physician early in its course, but it may be unrecognized by parents who do not understand its significance.

The patient, as has been said, is generally a young girl. Her complexion will be pale with possibly in some cases, a greenish tinge, hence the name.

She may be even heavier than normal in weight—she tires easily, suffers from shortness of breath—often dizziness and faintness; she may have palpitation of the heart and sometimes swelling of the feet. The appetite is variable and she may be nervous and emotional and may suffer from dyspepsia.

An examination of the blood will usually show a decrease in the number of red blood cells to about four million instead of five million per cubic millimeter.

An estimation of hemoglobin or coloring matter of the blood will also show a marked reduction both in relation to the volume of the blood and of the amount of coloring matter in the individual red corpuscles. The total volume is markedly increased.

The cause of chlorosis is unknown but it has been attributed to tight lacing, and is much less common than formerly. The treatment should at all times be directed by a competent physician and will include proper diet, proper clothing, rest and exercise if necessary, correction of any defects or diseased conditions of the teeth and the administration of some standard preparation of iron.

Treatment is usually very satisfactory and recovery is prompt. Neglect of treatment may cause much suffering, retarded development, serious interference with school work and a certain amount of permanent injury to the individual.

The Need of Restraint

By John Ruskin

As the plow is the typical instrument of industry, so the fetter is the typical instrument of the restraint or subjection necessary in a nation—either literally for its evil-doers, or figuratively, in accepted laws, for its wise and good men.

You have to choose between this figurative and literal use; for depend upon it, the more laws you accept, the fewer penalties you will have to endure, and the fewer punishments to enforce. For wise laws and just restraints are to a noble nation not chains, but chain-mail strength and defense—though something also of an incubance.

And this necessity of restraint, remember, is just as honorable to man as the necessity of labor. You hear every day greater numbers of foolish people speaking about liberty, as if it were such an honorable thing; so far from being that, it is, on the whole, and in the broadest sense, dishonorable, and an attribute of the lower creatures.

No human being, however great or powerful, was ever so free as a fish. There is always something he must, or must not do; while the fish may do whatever he likes. All the kingdoms of the world put together are not half so large as the sea, and all the railroads and wheels that ever were, or will be invented, are not so easy as fins.

You will find, on fairly thinking of it, that it is restraints which is honorable to man, not his liberty; and what is more, it is restraint which is honorable even in the lower animals.

A butterfly is much more free than a bee; but you will honor the bee more just because it is subject to certain laws which fit it for orderly function in bee society. And throughout the world, of the two abstract things, liberty and restraint, restraint is always the more honorable.

Sing a song of folly:
Oh, it is a pity!
Once there was a small town
Wished to be a city.

Men with saws and hatchets,
Up and down the village,
On their wicked business—
Massacre and pillage.

Roots can worry concrete,
Trunks can swerve a stone,
Gallant trees lie stricken,
Lovely boughs are prone.

Do not cry for beauty,
In a thrifty day:
Green and gold and scarlet,
Sacrificed for gray.

Now no gracious shadows
Lean across a gate;
Oh, the tidy streets are Very bare and straight.

In the Spring no small leaves
Gleaming overhead,
Singing little green songs—
All the trees are dead.

Whistle not for blackbirds,
Call no robins now;
They would scorn a gable
Who have known a bough.

OLD ENOUGH TO SHAVE

Mrs. Bing—Oh, I wish these receipts would be more definite.
Mr. Bing—What's the difficulty, dear?

Little Benny's Note Book

Glasses Magee's mother came to see ma this afternoon, bringing Glasses new baby sister with her, being exactly the same age as my new baby brother, but not twins, ma saying, Duzzent she look sweet sleeping so peacefully, you can put her rite upstairs in the same room with my baby and they can sleep their sleep out together and we can tawk comfortably.

That's a splendid idee, Mrs. Magee sed. And she went upstairs and put her baby on ma's bed and came down agen and her and ma started to tawk about different things, such as how hard it is to keep a cook and how much trouble and expense they are even if you keep them, and after a while there was a noise from upstairs, being a baby crying, ma saying, O deer, there goes your baby, Mrs. Magee.

O no, thats your baby, Mrs. Magee sed. My baby never cries wen she wakes up and I know her voice anyway, thats yours, you better go up and see to him, she sed.

I dont haff to, the idee, I tell you my baby practically dont know the meaning of the word cry, ma sed. And if its not my baby it must be yours, that stands to reason in a house with only 2 babies in it, she sed.

Well Im so satisfied that its not my baby that Im jest content to sit heer and listen to your baby cry, Mrs. Magee sed.

Thats exactly the way I feel about your baby, the poor little thing, I dont see how you can stand it, ma sed.

You must have a hart of stone, Mrs. Magee sed. Benny, you better run up and see wats a matter with your baby brother, she sed.

Wich I did, yelling down, Hay ma, hay, Mrs. Magee, its both of them, their both crying like the dooce.

Wich they was and ma and Mrs. Magee pritty near knocked each other over trying to be the first one upstairs.

WELL ENOUGH

That blamed expression "well enough" has caused a heap of trouble. Because of it our finest stuff has oft' been just a bubble. We have a task that must be done, but do it in the rough because we feel, when it's begun, when done, it's well enough.

I wonder who the man can be who let that boner slip. "Let well enough alone," said he. We all have grabbed the tip. In daily things that we must meet, we slide them by and stuff. At heart we know it's indiscreet to do just well enough.

Of course that gets you by, but then, there's not much satisfaction in doing things haphazard when you've snatched by just a fraction. The finest job a man can do is worth of the trouble. It brings the pep that sees you through and makes the pleasure double.

The world will keep on going though you pick the softest way to make your daily showing, but, you'll find it doesn't pay. Try cutting out the well enough, and be the sort of man who doesn't slide along on bluff, but does the best he can.

If fish really is good brain food, it's a shame, for some people, that they don't sell whale meat.

The height of efficiency is making the office boy put all the discarded letters in alphabetical order before throwing them in the waste basket.

He bought a hunter's license, but it didn't work so nice. In spite of it, they snatched the guy for shooting loaded dice.

Now we know what has become of the old-fashioned kid who used to get spanked in the woodshed. He's out in the garage spanking his own kid.

Just think of the pretty bathing girls the life guards are gonna pass up saving this summer, 'cause they'll think they're boys.

Contentment is wealth—try and trade it for a loaf of bread.

You can't expect sympathy if you're fired for making a mistake, it's the mistake of thinking the place can't get along without you.

There's considerable difference between how hard a man works, when he's telling a friend about it, and when he's telling the boss.

Did You Ever Stop to Think

By Edson R. Waite, Secretary, Shawnee, Okla., Board of Commerce

THAT the development of a mutual understanding and co-operation between the cities and the rural sections will do much toward the up-building of both.

THAT it would soon show the city man that the farmer is a business man who is planning and working at all times to develop the business of farming. He is a real neighbor and does his own share for the betterment of the whole community.

THAT it should show the farmer that the city man does not wear horns and is always willing to do his share.

THAT the cities and the country face the same big problem—that of building up their community.

THAT the city man should realize that the problem of converting idle acres into productive farms is as much his as it is that of the farmer.

THE ENLIGHTENED MEN SHOULD CO-OPERATE TO GETHER TO SUCCESS, NOT A SELFISH SUCCESS BUT A SUCCESS THAT IGNORES SELFISHNESS AND WORKS ONLY TO THE COMMON GOOD OF THE WHOLE COMMUNITY.

To Curb Recklessness

San Bernardino Sun

A news item the other day told of the fact that the Santa Fe railroad company secured a judgment in the San Bernardino justice court against an automobile owner who ran his machine into a locomotive.

Perhaps readers thought it strange that a great corporation is bothering about justice court suits to recover small amounts for minor damages to a locomotive in a crossing accident.

The suit was not for the money but for safety. The Santa Fe does many worthwhile things, but having an inadequate publicity relation department few people ever learn of the railroad's motives or anything at all of some of its major operations.

The Southern Pacific, however, has just explained the reason for suits to collect damages in crossing accidents. That railroad has collected scores of actions and has judgments ranging from $2.31 to $300 from automobile owners who failed to heed warning signals and ran into trains and crossing gates. Last year one flagman was killed, five others injured and 300 lowered crossing gates along the company's right-of-way broken by automobiles.

Many standing trains were run into and damaged by careless drivers. And so the railroad decided that during 1926 the careless and the reckless should pay less and the reckless should pay more.

J. E. Newman, vice president of the Southern Pacific, explains for the railroad's attitude:

"This is a safety move. We hope eventually to make it mighty expensive for drivers who speed so fast that they can't stop for small matters like a lowered crossing gate. It seems that people think more of their pocket-books than of their lives. Put up a sign 'Beware—Broken Glass on Crossing' and the average man who tries to beat a train to save 30 seconds would probably slow down out of respect for his tires."

"Trying to assault a locomotive with an automobile is like trying
